Dedication

To the Sixteenth State Legislature of the State of Wyoming, who so generously appropriated to our Alma Mater the funds which will enable us to have the buildings which we have so long needed, we dedicate this Wyo of 1922.

EDITOR'S PAGE

THE time has rolled around again for the Junior Class to issue an annual and so we, the class of '22, present for your approval our issue of the Wyo.

An annual is to record the happenings of the year, and so we have tried to immortalize for you the pleasant incidents of your life at Wyoming.

We know we have not produced a perfect book, but we have tried to publish a good one, and now we place in your hands for your future reference and happiness a bound record of the occurrences at the biggest little school in the West—where the snow-kissed mountains and the vast plains instill a true spirit of democracy.

Much credit is due the staff of the 1922 Wyo who have worked so faithfully to put out this volume.

THE EDITOR.

LIBERAL ARTS

---

Dr. Aven Nelson, President

The College of Liberal Arts

HERE are two fundamental principles of liberal education. The first is shared by both liberal and technical teaching; the second applies to liberal education alone. The principles are these: (1) that activity guided by ideas is on the whole more successful than the same activity without the control of ideas, and (2) that in the activities common to all men the guidance by ideas is quite as essential as in the case of those activities that different groups of men carry on in differentiation from one another.

The College of Liberal Arts takes as its content those activities that all men carry on, those deeds that a man must do in virtue of the fact that he is a man; and within this field it seeks to achieve the same enlightenment and insight that the professional school endeavors to attain in its special group of activities. The liberal college would learn and teach what can be known about man's moral experience, our common speech, our social relations, our political institutions, our religious aspirations and beliefs, the world of nature that surrounds and moulds us, our intellectual and aesthetic strivings and yearnings—all these, the human things that all men share, the liberal college attempts to understand, believing that if they are understood, men can live them better than they would live them by mere tradition and blind custom.

The liberal college is pledged to bring about this result; that the young people of our generation shall know themselves, shall know their fellows, shall think their way into the common life of their people, and by their thought shall illumine and direct it. It is pledged to the study of the universal things in human life, the things that make us men.

EDUCATION

The College of Education

THE College of Education has for its province the training of all kinds of teachers as well as all types of educational leadership needed for service in the schools of the State. The State Normal School has for its function the training of elementary teachers for both city and rural schools; the Department of Secondary Education trains teachers for the high schools of the state; the Department of Vocational Education trains teachers for Home Economics, Agriculture, and Industrial Subjects, and the Department of Special Education for the training of teachers of special classes. The training school provides a laboratory for the demonstration of educational principles and also an opportunity for the student teacher to put into execution his theoretical principles under critical and sympathetic supervision.

The College of Education is well equipped to train teachers for the schools of Wyoming. At present, ninety per cent of our teachers come from other states. Many teachers leave the profession each year, others go to states that offer greater opportunities. There are not prospective teachers in sight to meet the demands. The College of Education aims to make its graduates socially efficient; to assist them to accept with enlightened willingness their share in the world's work. However, the College is limited in its power to make successful teachers, for to become truly successful one must be imbued with love for the work. Such students we urge to join the teaching profession. Parents and children are pleading for consecrated, inspirational and professional teachers.

Too many of us go about the world bemoaning our lot. It seems as though, nowadays especially, a teacher never opens her mouth to speak of her profession unless it be to add some new word to the tale of woe. One would be led to believe that of all the people in the world teachers are the most miserable. We seem to have set out to win the world's pity, and we have succeeded.

Let us then exalt our profession. Let us believe and proclaim to the world that our work is not only the highest and noblest, but it is by all means the pleasantest and best, and let us pray God to be worthy of a calling like this. Then, instead of the world's pity we shall win for teachers and teaching the world's highest admiration and sincerest love.

A petition started among the students of the University in 1919-20 resulted in the formal opening of the first law school in the State of Wyoming, September 21, 1920. The first lecture was given by a most able attorney, Mr. N. E. Corthell, of the firm Corthell, McCollough & Corthell, of Laramie. This one was followed by regular lectures by the Law school faculty and by such noted practitioners as Mr. E. P. Lewis, a solicitor and counselor of London.

According to the number who have signified their intention of entering the first year class next year the class will be much larger than the first one and, although the Law school has suffered the loss of Dean Dale throughout the year, next year the Law school will be as strong as any College or Department of the University of Wyoming.

ENGINEERING

THE cultural value of an engineering course is often lost sight of or but little heeded, and yet, where considerable latitude is provided therein by suitable electives this feature is one of its chief assets. With many of these ideas in mind an attempt has been made to present a comprehensive course, one containing the professional essentials with room for the exercise of personal choice.

For many years the world has not looked at the graduate engineer in an appreciative way as they did at other professions.

Of late years it has become much different. The public knows more about him and his work.

The world is crying for more production, and for this they look to the engineer. The engineer is putting forth his efforts in this direction and is entering into more public service. To him we must look to the methods and process of producing those things to satisfy human wants.

The College of Engineering comprises courses in all the branches of engineering, Mechanical, Electrical, Civil, Irrigation and Mining. There is an excellent laboratory and library, and next year will see a new $200,000 building for the exclusive use of the engineering students.

Engineering Society

THE ENGINEERS

THE engineers have shaggy ears." That one might take as a by-word of the engineers of old Wyoming. Not because our ears are shaggy, but because it gives one the idea of the type of men engaged in studying the science of engineering, men who are large of stature, of keen intellect, care-free and nature loving.

The engineering society is organized every year for the purposes of binding the engineers of Wyoming into closer friendship and also to give us a place to discuss our problems together.

Engineers who have made their "mark" in the world are invited to our semi-monthly meetings to lecture to us on the problems of the day; these lectures have proven very interesting and helpful. One of the most interesting meetings on the campus this year was the convention held by "Wyoming Engineers". Several noted engineers of the United States lectured at this convention, and the engineering students were allowed the privilege of hearing them.

In closing: "Here's to the Engineers of old Wyoming. And to those who follow us we wish you success in everything you undertake."

SCIENCE HALL

Commerce

---

THE division of commerce has taken another step in enlarging this year and are now occupying two additional class rooms in the Science Hall.

The faculty has been greatly strengthened in securing Mr. Hart. In addition to regular courses he teaches many subjects in railroading, which this department has never before been offering.

With the additional space this year this department has been able to be of use more than ever previously and can proudly boast that it has kept up with the pace of all the other departments.

The regular short course is still offered as is also the four-year course which leads to a degree. This year has brought to us our largest enrollment, but we have lots of room for expansion.

Agriculture

WITH the return of more normal economic conditions throughout the nation, new angles of old agricultural problems have been brought to the front, problems that are going to demand the best thought of our ablest students. Questions in agricultural economics have taken on added importance since the close of the World War and trained men must aid in their solution. While tremendous strides have been made in meeting production problems, as yet distribution in most of its phases has received but scant attention. At a time of general business depression, when the men in many lines of work are being thrown out of employment, the demand for trained agricultural workers far exceeds the supply. Wyoming industries need men and women trained in the University of Wyoming, and Wyoming agricultural development depends in a large measure on the work of the Agricultural College and Experiment Station.

The Agricultural Club

ONE learns much in the classroom, and it is possible to lay up great funds of knowledge from books. But in books and classes alone there is something lacking. After all, we learn most from contact with others where ideas do not lie dormant. The purpose of the Agricultural Club's existence is that students may exchange ideas and meet faculty and practical men away from the routine of the classroom. Such an organization aids the students as it gives them a prospective of the life they are choosing.

Home Economics Club

FOR many years it has been thought that an education was for only the professional man or woman. If each girl who leaves college with her degree, has it in the profession she expects to follow, more girls should enroll in this college.

Our department does not train a girl to merely cook and sew; it raises the standards of living, establishes high ideals, and teaches each girl to rely upon herself and to solve her own problems.

In order that the girls who do not find time in their courses to take Home Economics may benefit as much as possible, the Home Economics Club was organized last year. Twice a month this club meets and discusses topics which should interest every girl on the campus.

“If we hold the view that a college education only marks the beginning of knowledge, the dawn of a bigger life of service with efficiency, truth, beauty of thought and deed, and charity as stepping stones toward a higher goal than earning and preparing the daily bread, then Home Economics has its function in the education of every young woman.”

The Division of Music

THE total enrollment of students in music classes meeting in Music Hall is 125. Aside from instruction in Piano, Voice, Violin, Pipe Organ and Brass Instruments there are classes in Harmony, Ear Training, Public School Music Methods, History of Music and Music Appreciation.

Music Hall has four studios, eight practice rooms, and a recital and class room, seating about 60. It is equipped with 12 pianos, Victrola, and special orchestra instruments. The school owns collections of music for orchestra, glee clubs and chorus, as well as a library of Victrola records. Pupils' recitals are given twice a term. Aside from informal appearances during the year the faculty appears in a concert each year on the University Artists' Course.

JUNIORS

J. DUNCAN BRITE

"I'm a 12 o'clock fellow in a 9 o'clock town."

"You caution'd me against their charms,

But never gave me equal arms."

The steady studier who studies steadily.

GLENN S. BURTON

"Whispering."

"I'll be a senior when I grow up."

Bud has helped run the Student twice, besides being otherwise useful.

AGNES ECKSTROM COTTLE

"Smile, Dear."

"Marriage is destiny,
And hanging likewise."

A good Home Ec. who is now putting her theory to practice—Poor Roger.

HOWARD T. BARNES
 "Oh, Mother, I'm Wild!"

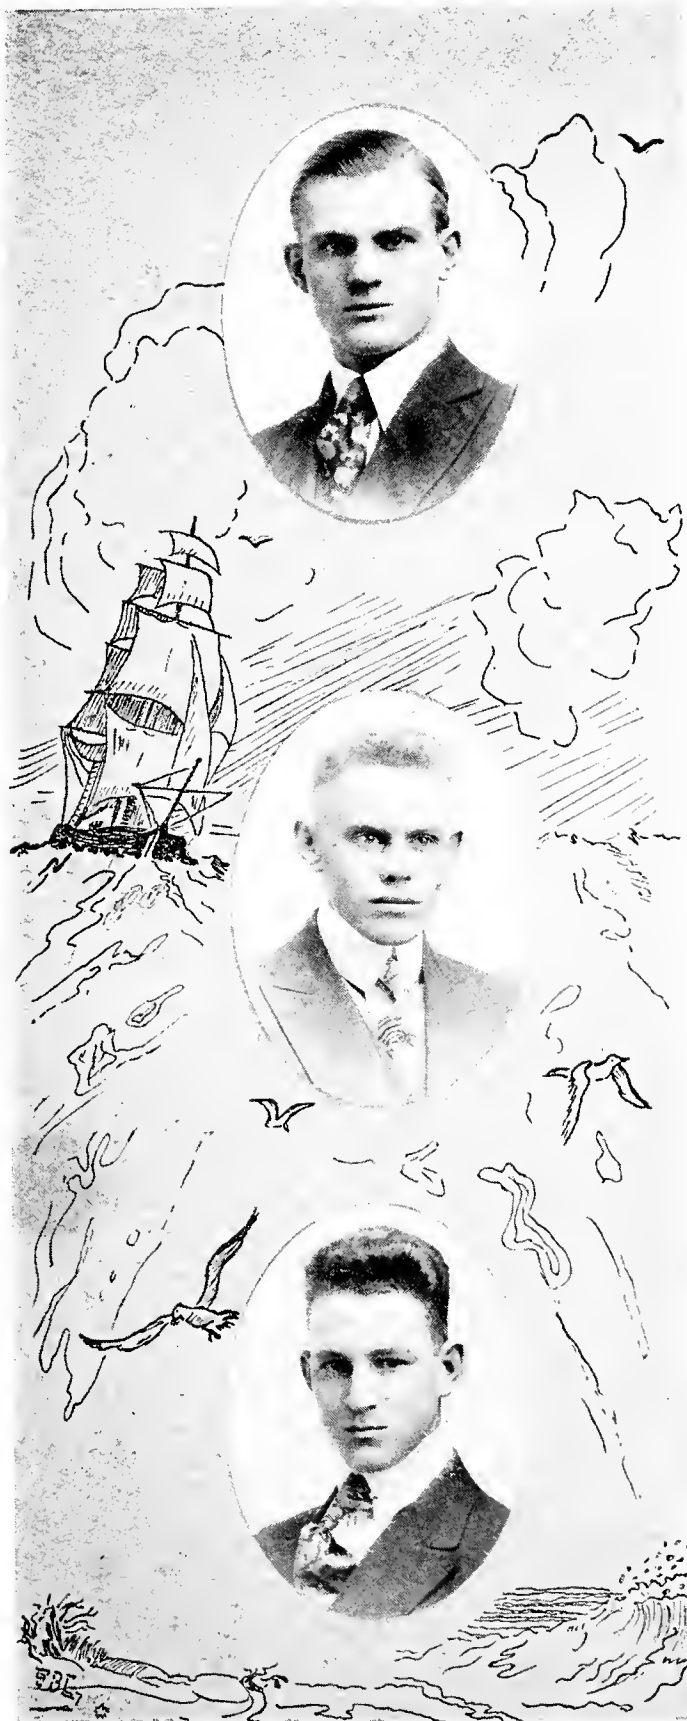

"The Coast,
 where first my shipwreck'd heart was lost."

A pole vaulter of rare ability, when he has time to show it. A football man of note.

WILBUR A. BERGQUIST
 "Good Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip,
 With your hair cut—"
 "The brain contains ten thousand cells.

In each some active fancy dwells."
 His Bolshevik tendencies cannot keep him away from class meetings and honorary societies.

WILLIAM O. BLENKARN
 "He loves the Ladies."
 "Sits in his study nook,
 With his elbow on a book."
 Blink can command either soldiers or a baseball bat. We're still trying to find a bad habit in him.

LAURA CROMPTON

"The Vamp."

"If ever any malice in you were hid against me, now forgive me frankly."

The pride of the Home Ec. department.

OLIVER B. CURRY

"All he'd say was Um-Hum."

"From each tree the feathered people look down on me."

A loyal engineer and a real soldier.

BESSIE DAY

"Somebody's Sweetheart"

"Will you not speak to save a lady's blush?"

A bugologist who shows how to boss a frying pan in the Home Ec. Department.

F. KELLY DUKES

"Any Time, Any Girl, Any Where"
 "The purple garments raise the lawyers' fees,
 High pomp and state are useful properties."

Kelly, our amateur lawyer, whose work on the Annual is a monument to his fame.

LESLIE H. EAGER

"So Long—oolong."

"The little Man from Littleton."

Nevertheless, he's a real Civil Engineer and copping Honor Books in Math. is his pastime.

PAUL L. ESSERT

"Give Me The Harem."

"You can with single look inflame,
 The coldest breast, the wildest tame"

Personified Pep, a Leader of Men, space forbids our telling the things he can do better than most folks.

EDWIN H. FITCH

"For Me And My Gals."

"Care is no cure, but rather a corrosive
For things that are not to be remedied."

Coach's Assistant, the Pride of the Dorms, he's quite a Boxer now and then.

GLADWYN C. FREEMAN

"There'll be no wedding bells for me"
"Silence in times of suffering is best,
'Tis dangerous to disturb a hornet's nest."

When he's not counting seeds, he's studying about them—or bugs.

PHILIP S. GARBUTT

"O What a Pal was Mary."

"Men of few words are the best men"
A football man and a rare student
—he studies rarely.

WALTER J. JENSEN

"Give me the Moonlight, give me my girl—" Oh, Boy.

"To bear is to conquer our fate."

Our advertising manager, who knows enough to win an honor book in mining.

LOIS H. KING

"Honolulu Eyes"

"The joys I have possessed, in spite of fate, are mine."

She must have a drag with the profs, for she won two Honor Books last year.

MURRAY S. KLEIN

"Fong, he came from Hong Kong."

"I'd rather have a fool to make me merry than experience to make me sad."

Besides being an editor and an organizer, he is notorious otherwise.

OLIVER B. KNIGHT

"Chocolate Soldier."

"No night is now with hymn or carol blest."

Our cadet major. A letter man in basketball and baseball.

ARTHUR L. LAUDER

"You'd be surprised."

"He was a scholar, and a ripe and good one."

Give him a chance and he will belong to every honor society in school.

EDWARD C. MADDEN

"Where do we go from here?"

"Nor fame I slight, nor for her favors call;
She comes unlooked for, if she comes at all."

Ted came here from Boston College, and boys, he's some football man.

MARY H. MOSTELLER

"Bright Eyes."

"In simple manners all the secret lies,
Be kind and virtuous, you'll be blest and wise."

The Library's best bet, and one who is always around when she's needed.

NELSON MCKAIG, JR.

"I hate to leave you—"

"He could on either side dispute."

He managed the Student well, his pipe was always working in the Chem Lab with him—He, well—You all know Mac.

SAM NEFF

"He's had no loving for a long, long time."

"Lives of great men all remind us."

The Wielder of the Slide Rule, the Basket Ball, the Foot Ball, or anything else he happens to get hold of. He managed the Annual—Nuff sed.

MARY V. PARK

"All the Boys Love Mary."

"On you, most beloved, with anxious fears I wait,
And from your judgment must expect my fate."

Her fiddle, her dates, her artistic ability, her dramatics, what activity can she not claim.

S. GLENN PARKER

"All he does is follow them around."

"For as his own bright image he survey'd,
He fell in love with the fantastic shade."

He can sport more pins than anyone on the campus, and he truly earned them all. He took care of athletics for the Annual.

FRED PARKS

"They Always, Always Pick on Me."

"I was not born for courts, or great affairs:

I pay my debts, believe, and say my prayers."

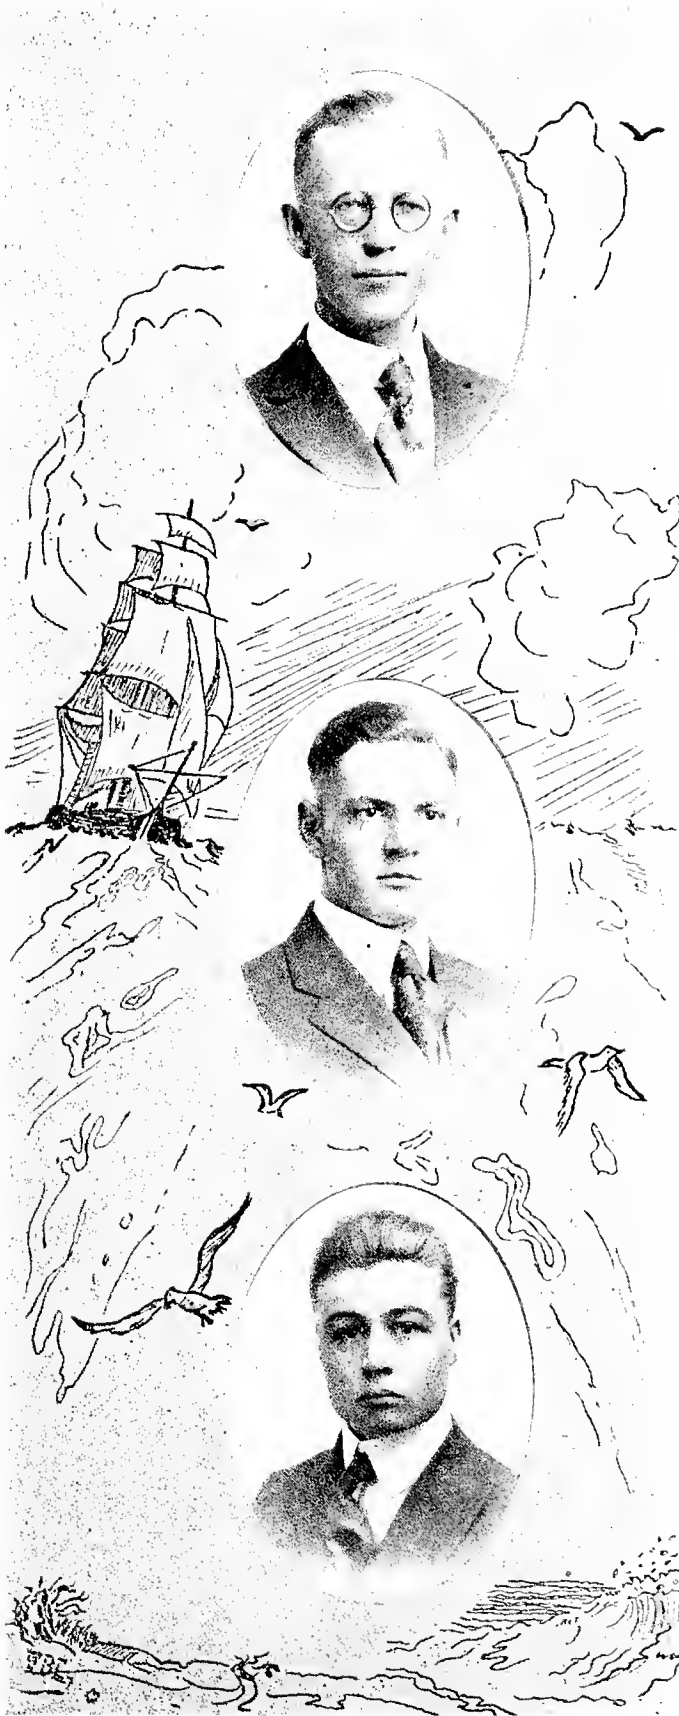

Our Class President, the Master of the Squared Circle; he plays football, and, oh, boy, did you ever see the picture he carries.

ROBERT BURNS PIERCE
"What are you going to do to wet your whistle—?"
"When you have nothing to say,
say nothing."
Our student, who will soon be running the Union Pacific.

CLARENCE A. RUE
"Long Boy."
"Trifles themselves were elevated in him."
The dorm hound who had time enough to be President of the A. S.
U. W.

ALFRED SABIN
"I'm forever blowing Bubbles."
"Duty by habit is to pleasure turned,
He is content who to obey has learned."
An inventive engineer with strong inclinations to do big things for the school.

WALTER P. SMYTH

"You ain't heard nothing yet."

"I came, saw and overcame."

A basketball wizard, and a baseball fiend, with a real steady nerve and a strong cigar.

ETHEL SODEN

"Smiles."

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale, her infinite variety—"

She attends all class meetings, she wrote the calendar, in fact, we couldn't get along without her.

WILMER E. STEVENS

"I'd love to fall asleep and—"

"When with greatest art he spoke, You'd think he talked like other folk."

He's a captain in the cadets, and good in class—when he's there.

CLAIRE TUCKER

"I don't want to get well."

"Whatever amuses serves to kill time, to lull the faculties, and to banish reflection."

A football star and a real student, dependable all the time.

MICHAEL WIND

"Boy o' Mine."

"When I view the beauties of thy face,
I fear not death, nor dangers, nor disgrace."

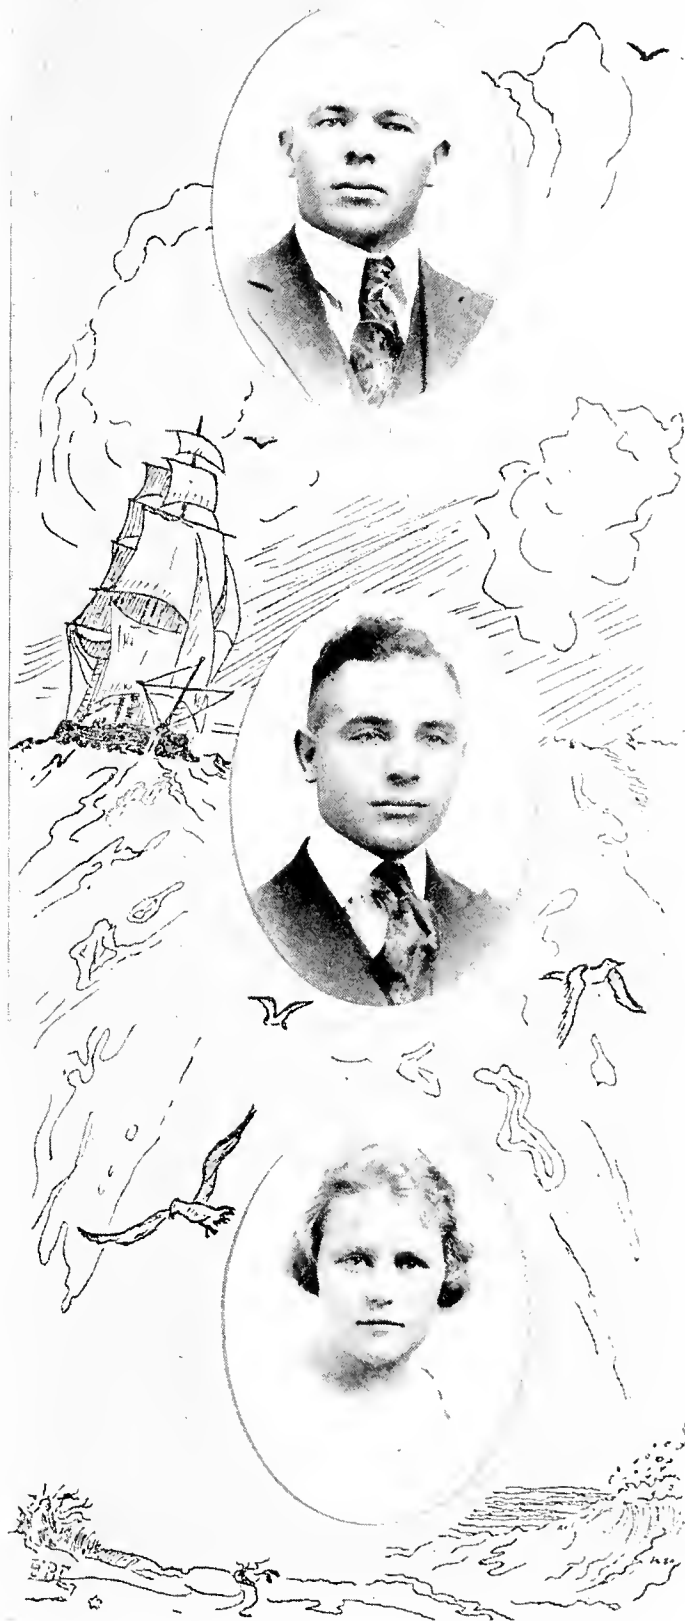

Mike is a living proof that even songbirds can play baseball.
"Sodium Acetate."

GRACE WINSOM

"Girl of my Dreams."

"Virtue is its own reward."

For one who has been with us such a short time, she has quickly attracted our attention. After two years at D. U. she made a wise change.

Sophomores, '23

JUST gaze on the noble portraits on the opposite page—they are the class of '23—that class has successfully passed the verdancy of the Freshies and has not been contaminated by close association with the deluding Juniors or the venerable Seniors.

How well the Freshman will remember our first appearance at the Ag Farm dance. Although we were the only class not invited we received by far the warmest reception.

Moral: Hospitality pays—Frosh!!

The Sophomores are in everything—dramatics, Quill, athletics, debating, love and debt.

The social season at the university was opened by the Lay-Z Soph Outfit dance. The accordions and mouth harps orchestra was accompanied by the gurgling of Bevo, and the Limburger Cheese assisted everyone over the floor. Thousands of dollars changed hands at the Faro Wheel. Foreman Hathaway was dubbed “king of the poker chips”. Jack Gage spent the evening in teaching the Dean of Women how to shoot craps.

The powder gave out—

The shooting stopped—

The party broke up—

Long will the Lay-Z Soph Outfit be remembered for the deeds it has done and praised for those things it will do.

Have you a little Soph in your home? Nuff sed!—

The Class of 1924

NEEDLESS to say this class has proven an exception to a rule, that where quantity proved to be quality. Going over the activities of the past year we find that the class of '24 has played a very important part.

First, we painted the W, as all loyal Freshmen should. This was followed by a dance at the Ag farm where several Sophomores met their Waterloo. Soon after we established the Varsity training table for the football men. This tradition we leave to the future Freshmen to carry out. Then came the Freshman Carnival which proved a very enjoyable and successful affair. Our next contribution to the social events was the Freshman Tag Day, followed by a dance. A new venture was launched when we entertained at a matinee dance.

In athletics five Freshmen made their letters in football, and the scrub team was composed almost entirely of Freshmen. In Basketball, we were represented by one man on the first team and two on the second. Three men are now playing on the baseball team, and about ten men are out for the track team. Incidentally, we took the other class teams into camp by winning the class series in basket ball.

From these past activities we will leave you to judge for yourselves our future place in University affairs. The class of '24 extends to all future classes a hearty greeting and trust they will live up to the standards set by us.

The Military Department

ESPITE a number of cumbersome rulings from national headquarters the R. O. T. C. of the University of Wyoming has flourished and produced results during 1920-'21. The whole system is in a state of evolution and a few of the experiments tried this year proved not highly successful. As a result Captain Daly found himself with seventeen officers, not all too interested, a number of dissatisfied non-coms and more incapable non-coms, also a few dissatisfied freshmen.

Much as the captain would have liked to have given each man a rank befitting that man's interest and capability, his hands were tied. Considering the clumsy machinery the unit has been an entire success.

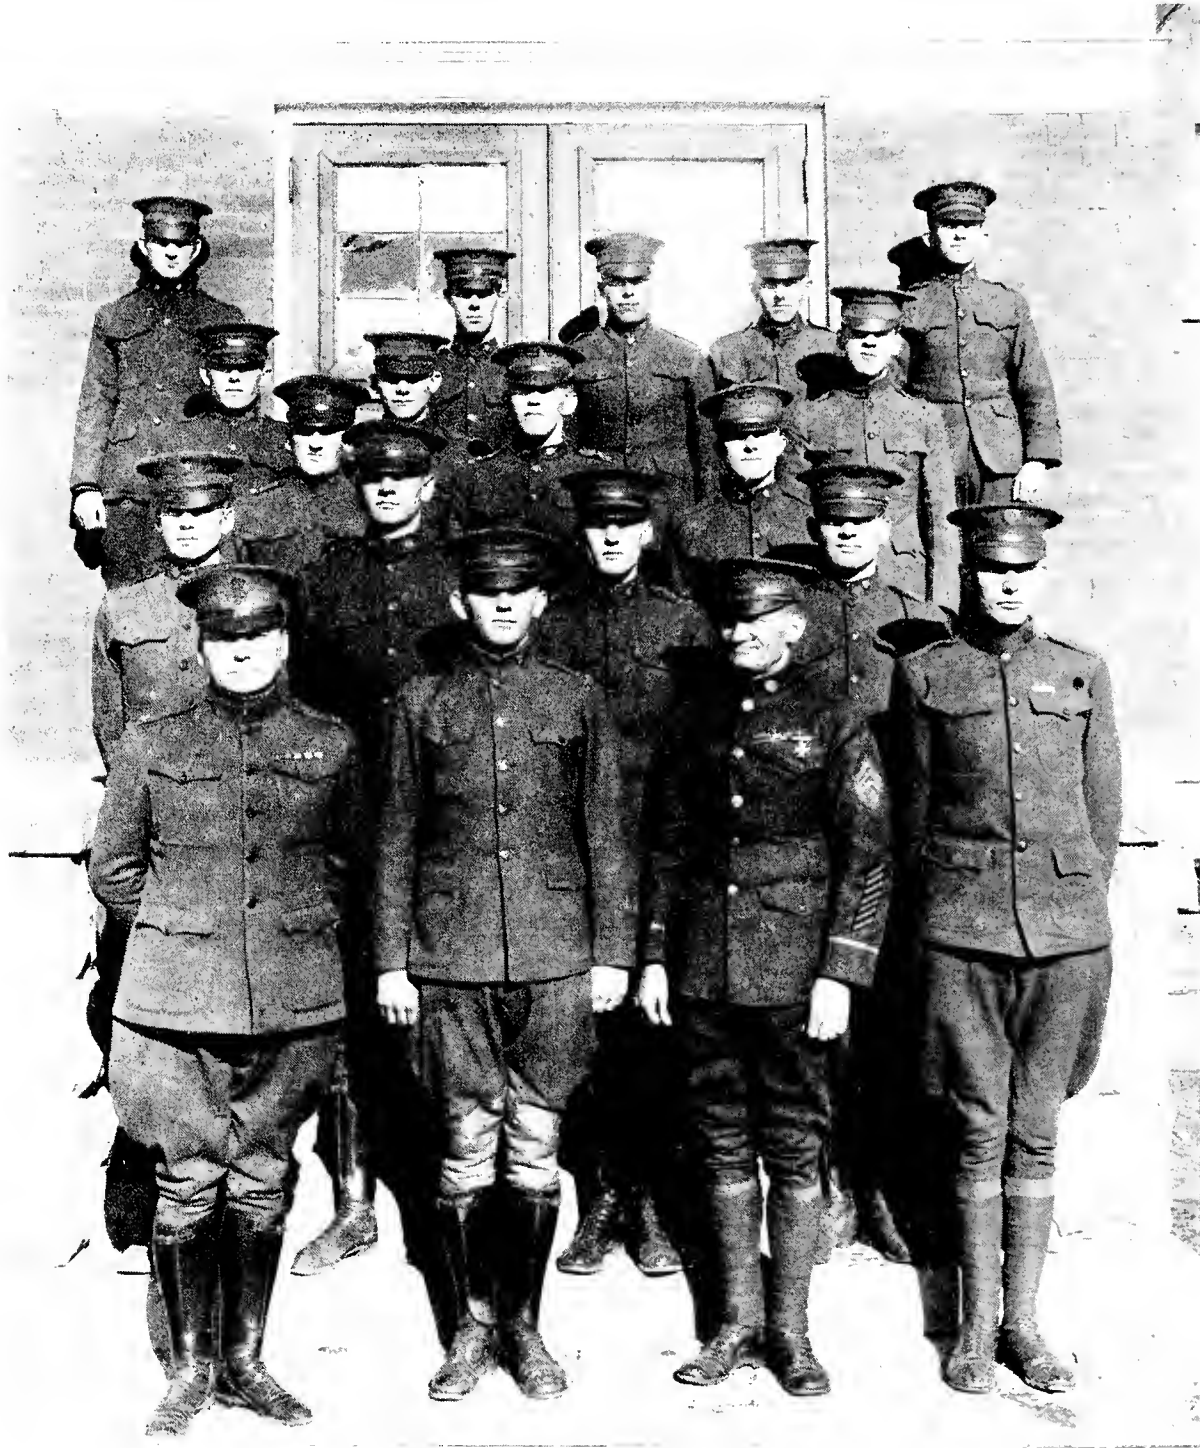

The personnel of the department has both gained and lost since the classes started in the fall. The older men realized as they performed the accustomed rifle cleaning preparatory to inspection, how much they missed the experienced eye of old Sergeant Gagne. The Sergeant is now spending a well-earned retirement at his home in Chicago. To take the place of cheery "old Sarge" has come a welcome addition in the person of Sergeant Land. This young non-com has made himself highly popular, not alone to members of the R. O. T. C., but to members of the vocational training department and has proved himself very valuable in strengthening friendly relations between these two groups.

The department has grown some along the lines of equipment as well as men. A 37-mm. gun, two machine-guns, light mortars, four light Brownings and about sixteen automatic pistols have been added to the "artillery" of the department. As this goes to press, work is being pushed on the new rifle range in preparation for the coming match with Oregon Aggies.

The only public appearance of the corps this year was in connection with the Cadet Ball, given by the seventeen cadet officers. The affair was typically military, particularly the enthusiasm created by the camouflaged beans that Mess Officer Stevens served as part of the midnight lunch. The crowd was somewhat reduced due to the fact that "Robin Hood" had selected the same evening to show at a local theatre. However, in spite of little difficulties in all lines, the Wyoming unit of the R. O. T. C. yet exists as such.

As was and is, the long and short of it

“Mutt” in the above portrait, taken thirteen years ago, is “Sonny” Sutpin. “Jeff” is Art King, now a freshman in U. W., then the youthful mascot of the cadet corps. Note the out-of-date uniforms (also our gymnasium in the background).

At the R. O. T. C. camp, Camp Kearney, California, Wyoming University was represented by Rue, McKaig, Larson, Curry, Stevens, Jones and Ferguson. Most notable of all these was "Fergie", royal jester to ye noble knights of the R. O. T. C.

The six weeks was one that all the men will remember with a deep sense of pleasure. Those week-ends at San Diego, Del Mar, Coronado, La Jolla and—under your hat—Tia Juana were absolutely unsurpassable, even in a co-ed school.

Wyoming was well represented in camp activities. Rue, McKaig and Curry were members of the "C" company baseball team. Stevens was a member of the Western Department rifle team, of which Capt. Daly was the greatly liked and respected coach. This team cleaned up on all R. O. T. C. and National Guard teams in the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, and placed seventeen among the sixty-five teams firing in the national team match.

A. S. U. W. Executive Committee

THAT ship of state known as the A. S. U. W. Executive Committee has weathered the storms of the college year and approaches the end of its journey in untroubled seas. The storms have not been unusual—just the ordinary problems which every executive must meet. Chief of these is probably that of finances. This problem has been very ably met this year by the splendid efforts of Faculty Adviser Hunton and the capability of Manager Sheldon. The returns from the concessions of Tournament Week helped alleviate financial difficulties. The new awards system was inaugurated with a view to lessening financial burdens. The outlook is bright indeed, and the committee hopes to leave the A. S. U. W. in better financial standing than ever before.

We have endeavored to carry out the traditions of the University and to increase college spirit by means of rallies and recognition of traditions.

The A. S. U. W. formal has been held and unanimously voted a great success.

The annual picnic will take place as usual and preparations are under way for Home-coming Week.

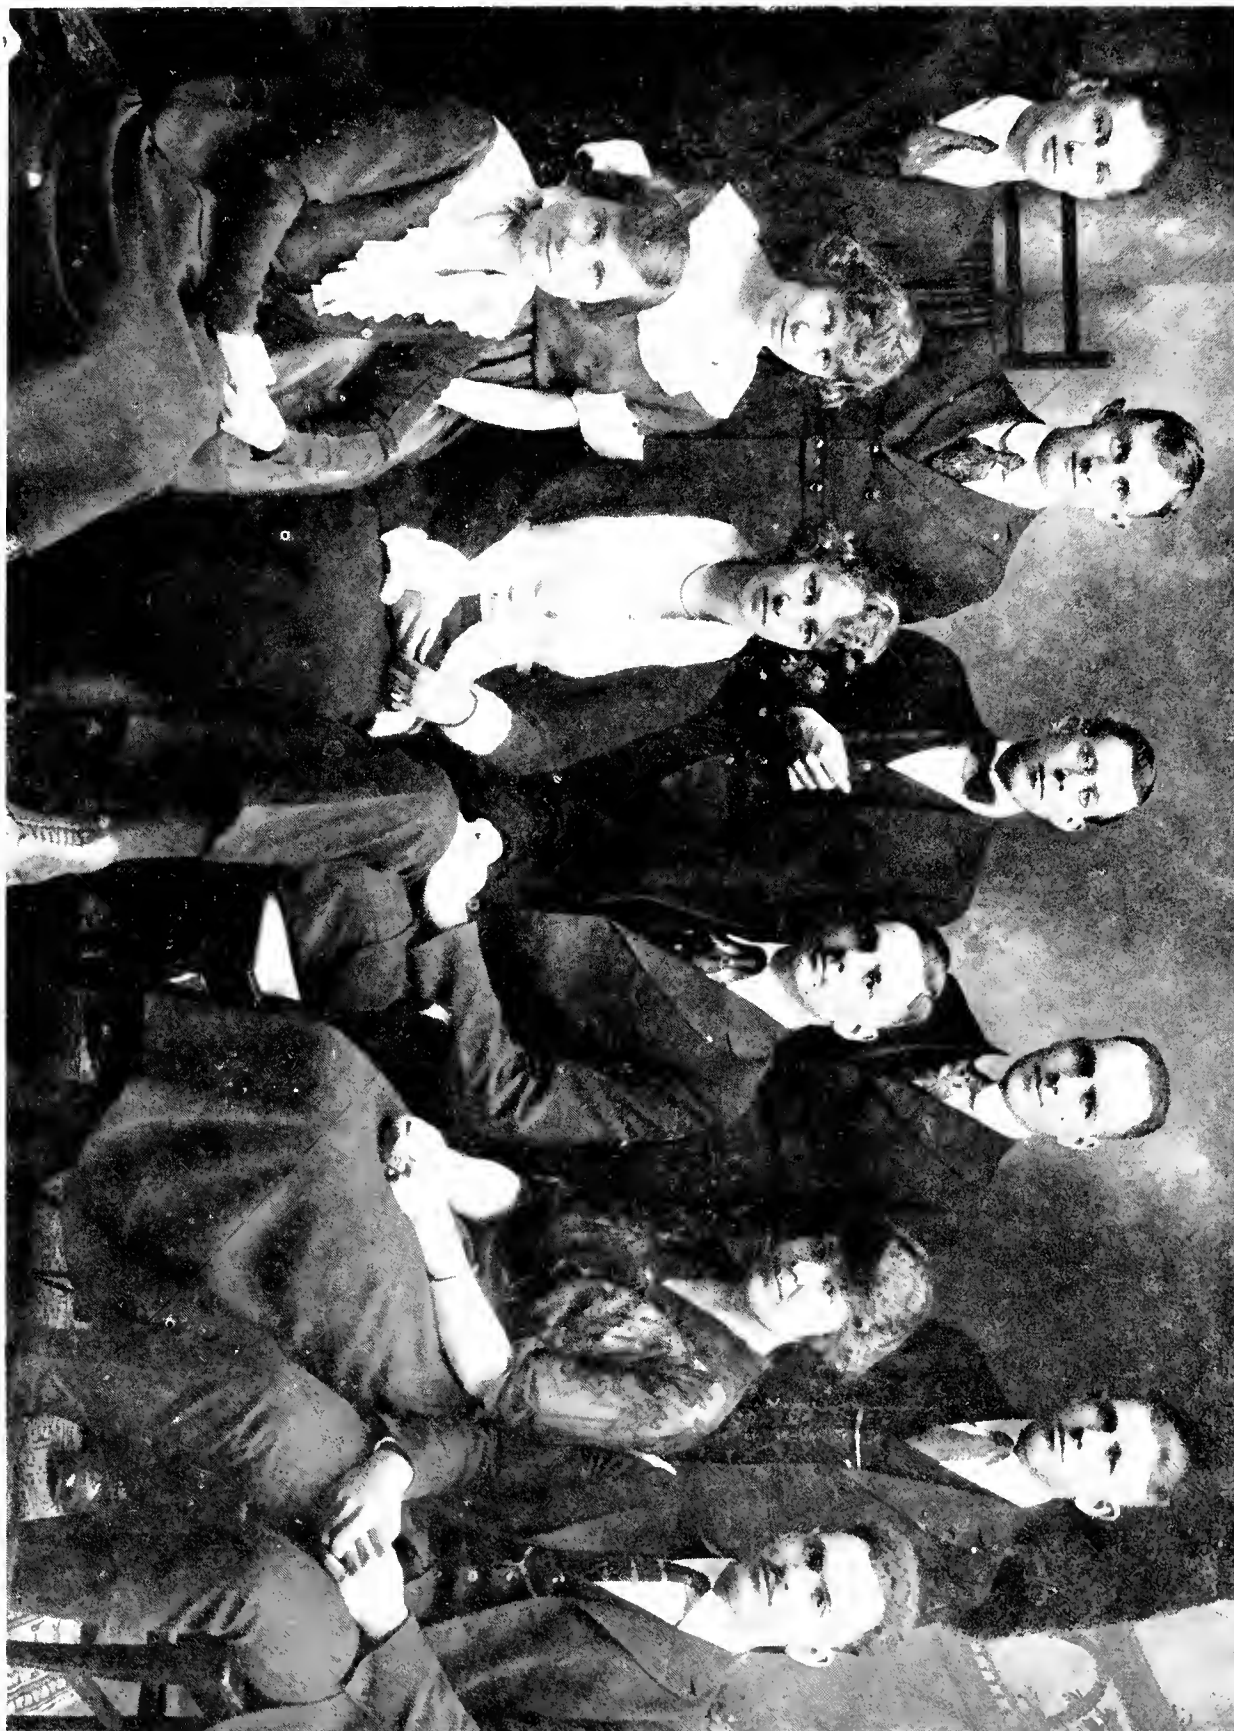

Following the example of last year, Wyoming will have a baseball team again, the prospects for which are very encouraging.

This year has seen the admittance of the University to the Rocky Mountain Conference with all the added prestige and possibilities which such a position entails.

Under the able leadership of President Rue this Executive Committee of the A. S. U. W. has endeavored to further the interests of the student body in every way and, in retiring, we would express our best wishes for the future growth and prosperity of the organization.

The Wyoming Student

OUR newspaper, or at least a conscientious attempt to be a newspaper, that's the Student. Ted used to say that the best newspaper was the one that got the news when it was news and put it out in the way the people wanted it put out. Of course, that's easier said than done, but the Student has tried to concern itself with the interests of its clientele as any good newspaper should.

The Student has meant a lot of work and a lot of fun for a lot of people—particularly Ye Editores, and we can jolly well sympathize with Ye Editore of Ye Average Home-Town Gimlet. What, with keeping all the Departments running—there have been six on Glass Houses—trying to get out an original editorial once or twice in a while, even though they weren't read, and trying to make the Front Page look presentable, it's enough for a Philadelphia lawyer. But we like it. Hope the next staff does.

When writing advertisers, mention the Wyoming Student.

Phos Pherontes

---

HOS Pherontes is the senior honorary society and the only organization of its kind on the campus, its primary aim being that of scholarship. It was formed in the spring of 1920 by the honor graduates of that year. Membership is not limited to any one college or department.

The purpose of the organization is to promote high scholarship, but realizing that a well-rounded man needs a great deal in addition to scholarship, the society encourages participation in college activities, both for the development of the individual and of the University of Wyoming. At the close of each college year an honor book is given to the members of each class having the highest scholastic standing for that year.

QUILL CLUB

To show that all literary people are not Bohemian persons with soulful eyes and flowing ties we present the photographs of the crowd on the opposite page—Thorn Rune of the American College Quill Club. This is the only distinctively literary organization in the University, membership in which is determined by competitive try-outs in the fall and spring of each year.

This chapter has accomplished signal achievements this year. Under the directorship of Dr. Downey, a charming Chinese fantasy, "Willoware", was written by the club, and produced by the Thaliens. The play was a really beautiful and exquisite bit of dramatic artistry, and quite the biggest thing the Quill Club has produced.

Thorn Rune also edits a magazine, the "Wyoming Quill", twice yearly, which is a very popular publication on the campus, being composed of the most representative work of the members of the Club.

The purposes of Quill are to promote Truth and Beauty.

Delta Sigma Rho, an honorary debating fraternity, is the one organization on the campus which exists for the sole purpose of furthering the development of the highest forms of oratory. The fraternity awards medals to the winners of first place on the women's and men's debating team each year and a loving cup to the winner of the oratorical contest in the tournament. Membership in this national organization is based primarily upon participation in an intercollegiate debate. This serves as an incentive toward obtaining places on the college debating teams. The fraternity has entertained visiting debating teams, thus promoting the interest of various schools in intercollegiate debating. The members of Delta Sigma Rho, by their interest and activity in forensics, have endeavored to be of some assistance in the effort to raise the standards of public speaking and debating in the University.

Zeta Phi

For some time a need has been felt in the College of Engineering for a society which would help to maintain a high standard of scholarship and also reward the student who had diligently applied himself to his studies. It was this feeling that was responsible for the founding of Zeta Phi, the honorary Engineering Fraternity at the University of Wyoming.

First, by the maintenance of a high standard of scholarship and secondly, by the study and discussion of the vital questions concerning the College of Engineering and the current engineering problems, Zeta Phi has been doing what it can for the advancement of the profession.

Thalian Club

HALIA, the muse of comedy, was the inspiration that prompted the forming of the dramatic society which has so successfully manipulated the theatrical activities of the campus this year—the Thalian Club.

Although in its infancy, the organization has already justified its existence. It superintended the presentation of the A. S. U. W. plays given in January. These were among the signal achievements in the dramatic history of the University. In addition to this they produced on May 28 the hilarious comedy "Seven Keys to Baldpate", which, although of a different type, was equally as good as the plays given earlier. Not only was laudable dramatic ability shown, but artistry of directing and executive management as well.

Because of the extraordinary work of the Thalian Club, the attention of Theta Alpha Phi, a well-known national dramatic fraternity, has been attracted and the local has lately received the acceptance of a petition for a national charter.

Membership is strictly honorary, depending upon competitive tryouts and talent displayed in University productions.

The Stockjudging Team

THE following students represented the University of Wyoming in the second stock-judging team at Denver, 1921: C. E. Blagg, C. L. Benson, E. T. Graham, Glen Hartman, L. E. Schaffer and E. W. Robinson. Teams in the contest ranked as follows: Kansas, 3523.5 points; Nebraska, 3483 points; Colorado, 3469 points, and Wyoming, 3140.5 points, out of a possible 4000. The King Bros. cup was awarded to C. E. Blagg, the Hauf & Sons medal to C. E. Blagg, and the Hays cash prize to Glen Hartman.

The experience and knowledge gained by the representatives on the team each year is of inestimable value to the students.

Presenting this page an honest attempt is made to throw no dust in the eyes of "our constituency". We believe that the year 1920-21 has been a successful one. In spite of some failures, for which we offer no alibi, we are optimists and will press on toward the mark.

All are familiar with the established functions of the University Y. M. C. A., some of which are already traditional and hold a leading place in popularity with the students, both new and old. The Freshmen can vouch for the invaluable assistance given them by the "Y" last fall in securing rooms, employment, and the dispensing of valuable information through the "Freshman Bible", 450 of which were given away free.

Several fine social affairs were given by the Y. M. C. A., some of which were in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A. These were the opening "Stag", "General Jam", student receptions in co-operation with Y. W. C. A. and churches, Hallowe'en Party, and the third annual basbet ball banquet.

The new activities of the "Y" this year are of a most useful and educational type. The most prominent of these is the social service program, introduced by Fred H. Rindge, Jr. Fifty-seven people have engaged in teaching English to foreigners, Americanization shop meetings, Red Cross work, work at Children's Home, and other forms of service. This has been in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A.

The publication of a university directory has been a valuable new departure. Three hundred have been sold to the student and faculty body at less than cost, and one hundred purchased by the university to be used in propaganda with the State Legislature.

An innovation for Wyoming this year is our delegation of seventeen students to the Colorado Student Volunteer (Missionary) Conference. This has resulted in a Student Volunteer Band of eight members, two mission study classes, and a drive for $1,000.00 to support our "Wyoming in India" project which is Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. work among students in India. Next fall the new "Colorado and Wyoming Student Volunteer Union" will hold its annual conference at U. W., due to the efforts of our delegates.

Besides entering the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference, Wyoming has become affiliated with the Colorado and Wyoming Student Volunteer Union, the Colorado-Wyoming Committee of Council, and the Regional Council of the Student Y. M. C. A. We rejoice over all of these forward steps.

Last June thirteen men attended the Estes Park Y. M. C. A. conference. This group are all enthusiastic supporters and will be influenced in sending a greater number this year. No college man can afford to miss one of these great conferences. It is worth a year of college.

Our budget of $3,000.00 is assured for the year. Everything points to a progressive future and a larger place of influence and service for the University Y. M. C. A.

THE Y. W. C. A. has been one of the most wide-awake organizations on the campus during the past year, and has made its influence felt in the lives of the girls of U. W., practically all of whom are members of the "Y".

This influence has been primarily a religious one, for the Y. W. C. A. is the only organization on the campus whose purpose is to develop the spiritual side of the college girls' life, and as such, it has realized the importance of putting on a religious program adequate to the needs of this campus. It has been relatively successful in this program, and the weekly meetings have been well attended and have been unusually enjoyable and profitable.

But the Y. W. has made its influence felt in other ways during the year. At the beginning of the first term, its members made every effort to welcome the freshman girls and to see that they became acquainted with faculty and students and felt themselves a part of the campus life and activities.

The Freshman Frolic was its usual success. The purpose of this social function is to make the new girls feel themselves a part of the University life, to instill true Wyoming pep into them, to interest them in U. W. activities, and to prevent homesickness by giving the girls a real good time.

Then the Y. W. worked with the Y. M. in staging the big get-acquainted party at the first of the year—the "General Jam", and in issuing the "Y" handbook. These two organizations also established two very worthy traditions—the "Y" Hallowe'en party and the student directory.

The "Y" has also done a great work along the line of social service. Under its auspices, classes are being held for the instruction of students interested in social service. These students teach in night schools for foreigners and are doing an important work in Americanizing the foreign element in Laramie.

On the whole, we feel that the Y. W. C. A. has filled its place in all phases of campus life.

Girls' Glee Club

Director.....Miss Ermine Thompson
President .....Ethel Soden
Secretary-Treasurer .....Laura Allyn

THE Girls' Glee Club was organized near the first of the year under the direction of Miss Ermine Thompson. The club sang in assembly on several occasions, and at the Thalian Club plays given during the winter. We are now, in connection with the Men's Glee Club, working on a Festival Concert to be given early in June. Much credit is due Miss Thompson for her untiring efforts in behalf of the club.

We feel that this organization is very much worth while and should receive the co-operation of everyone upon the campus. It is hoped that more people will try out for Glee Club next year, making it larger and stronger.

Iron Skull

“Eighteen men on a dead man’s chest,
Yo ho! ho! and a malted milk shake.”

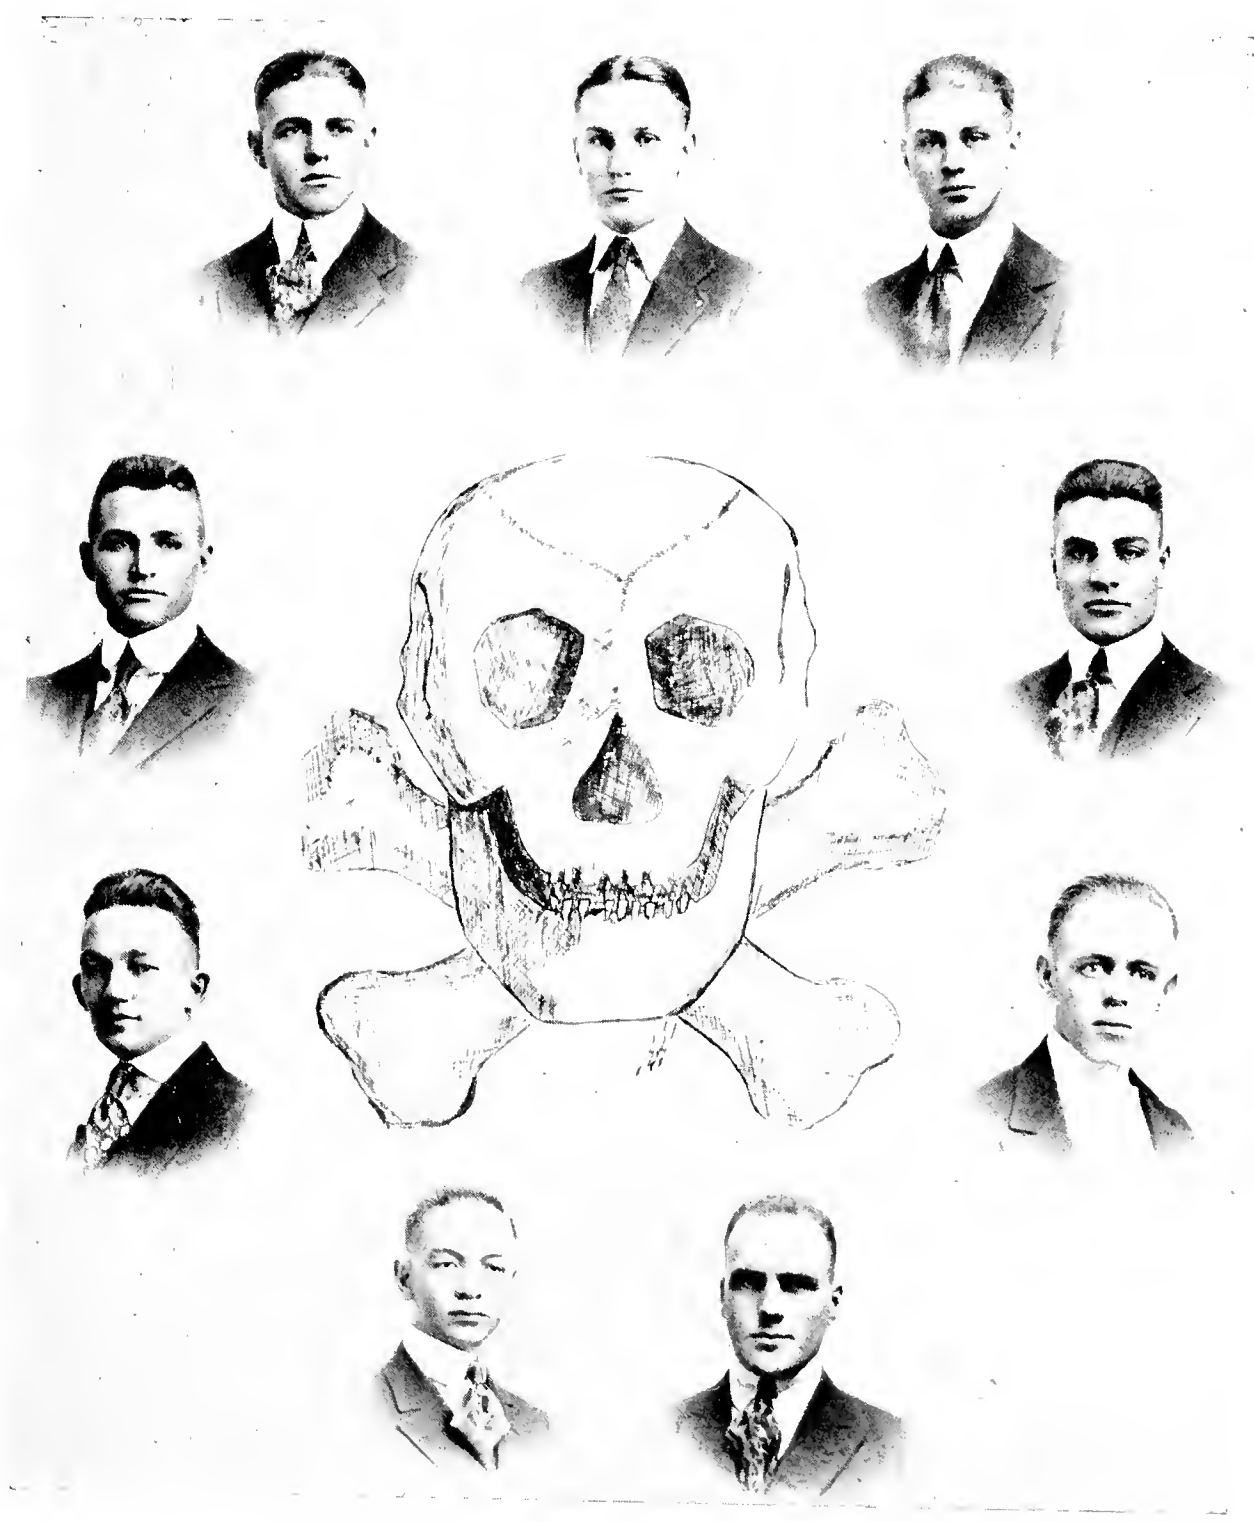

This is the song of the mysterious Iron Skull Band, whose clenched hands, dripping with blood, are lifted against every offender. This ghastly crew, despite its gruesome secrecy, is composed of the aristocracy of the campus, for it must always be admitted, the Sophomore class is the aristocratic class of any school, and the Iron Skull is composed of the aristocratic members of the Sophomore Class. Its membership is determined by worth. For it is strictly an honorary society. To take the vows of the iron-clad constitution one must have a record of achievement in scholastic and campus activities. In order that Iron Skull may be carried on through succeeding years, every Freshman is closely watched by the all-seeing eye that twinkles red and green. His record is tabulated according to the point system, every failure, every success noted. Thirty points are necessary.

This year the organization, realizing that any strictly masculine society is brutal and inefficient, decided to admit girls, choosing seven whose requirements were compatible with the high standards of the Iron Skull. Hereafter, every year the active chapter shall pledge and initiate one-half the number they desire from the Freshman class, who shall choose, pledge and initiate the other half the first of next year.

The Iron Skull dance, though the first of its kind, was one of the best dances of the year. The girls invited the brother skullers to a hike one evening, and it was such a success the Skull decided to have one each year.

The University Comedy Four

The Following Is Written by a Member of the "Four", So It's Inside Dope

ENCORE! Once more we extend our courtesies and good wishes to our many friends, enemies and sympathizers. We admit that we have caused many of you great and unforgivable suffering. That is perhaps the reason that hundreds of millions of you are trying to get us to come back and sing for you again this year—so that you can get even with us. But we're wise, even if the picture doesn't give any evidence of the fact, because we perform outside on dark nights this year, especially when we get hungry. The only reason that some of our serenades have been a success this year is because we couldn't wake some of the ladies up and they snored so loud that the rest of them couldn't tell whether we were good or worse. In former years we have made quite an extended trip over the state, but were unable to do so this year on account of the increased raise in flats and the high rent on Fly-Tails (commonly known as Dress Suits).

This year the quartette has a good-looking fellow in it. (Five dollars reward for anyone verifying this statement publicly.) Worden sings first tenor, plays the Uke and helps the rest of us make Mike behave. Mike Wind, the famous volunteer soloist, sings second tenor or worse, and plays his mandolin (sometimes alone). Essert still tries to sing baritone, plays the guitar (and the fool) and tries to act serious about his singing and playing. Klein, the pianist, is still faithfully and patiently struggling with bass. Those who say the final word said that it was so base that he couldn't leave town with it. He's playing the banjo and helping Mike make his way in the world. All in all, we're good, but we already know it, so we hope no one will feel badly about what we have said here.

Hoping to be with you next year, we are

Innocently yours,

THE UNIVERSITY COMEDY FOUR.

Dormitories

DORMITORY may be just a housing place, a convenient bit of space allotted to some prospective high-brows for dumping books, wearing apparatus, a few pictures of the home-folks, a grill and a tennis racket; it may be a collection of cells of four bare walls, each opening from dark narrow halls, which suggest bats, mice and other allied inhabitants; or it may be a real home with an atmosphere of cheer, of comfort, and of orderliness.

Women's Hall and Hoyt Hall are of the real home type, providing opportunities for study and rest, for pranks and "feeds", for parties and teas and, best of all, opportunities for knowing the other girl. Some girls of wonderful attainments, who have hidden within themselves, have really been discovered in the dormitories. If any girl has an overgrown streak of selfishness and is looking for a panacea, life in the Hall is the cure. For that is the place where one considers her neighbors' wishes during study hours and quiet hours; where one is never known to wear another's evening gown or borrow her electric iron when no one is at home.

Do you know you can find the life history of every dorm girl in the "Late list"? Look it over and find out who are the studious ones that spend their Friday evenings at the library. Notice the names with the times 9:59 or 10:02 following; you are entirely safe in betting that they are the sprinters of the Women's Athletic Association.

Just think of the tales of dormitory life that can be told to the next generation!

SEASON REVIEW

THE season of 1920 has been one of the best that the U. W. has ever had. To make a long story short, we played ten games, winning four, tying one and losing five. It may not sound as good as it really was, for our team played consistent ball throughout the season, yet lost several times after having gained more yards than their opponents and really outplaying them in every way. The men have worked together for a common end, and their playing has shown it. Captain Simpson suffered the ill fortune of an injured shoulder and back which kept him out of several games, and Sam Neff sustained a broken foot which likewise prevented his playing. The loss of these two players meant much to the University of Wyoming, but considering everything, we are not ashamed of our record as it is.

Wyoming's admittance to the Rocky Mountain Conference in January of this year will be a valuable asset in all athletics, but especially in football. We have a chance to enter into the games with the spirit and feeling of an equal, and we're going to be more than that next year. The loss of such men as Long, Simpson, Layman and Buchanan, men who have starred for the University for three and four years, men who have given their best to their school, will handicap the team severely, but we have much new material and with pep and work we can make somebody fight hard for the Conference Championship next year. The Cowboys'll scratch 'em without pulling leather, yuh bet! Captain-elect the U. W. team to conference championship the first year of its membership—and he has Wilson has one of the biggest opportunities a Wyoming man can have—a chance to lead a team that will fight its best for Wyoming.

"SIMP" SIMPSON (Captain) Fullback

Three prep school, one year; three years on 'varsity; Camp Pike midwest champion team, 1918.

Fast on rounding ends and versatile, but handicapped in showing his best on account of injuries.

"BUCK" BUCHANAN, Tackle

Captain '17; Iowa State Freshman team; three years on 'varsity.

The most formidable man of the team; the backbone of line and a terror to tackle plays.

FRANK LONG, Center

Three years on 'varsity.

A wonder at center, and his steady passing is an aid to the speed of the back field.

“FRITZ” LAYMAN, Halfback
 La Crosse, Wisconsin, H. S., three years; three years on 'varsity.
The old war horse, always consistent and dependable.

“TUCK” TUCKER, Guard
 Three years on 'varsity.
A hard worker and a stubborn fighter who gets results.

SAM NEFF, Guard
 Two years on 'varsity.
Fast, heavy and a good fighter.

"BOB" WILSON, Quarterback

Captain-elect, Laramie H. S., two years; captain, 1915; two years on 'varsity.

A good line plunger and a brainy backfield man.

HOWARD BARNES, Halfback

Sterling, Colo., H. S., three years; two years on 'varsity.

A hard worker, light, shifty.

"PETE" ALERS, Guard

Lander H. S., one year; two years on 'varsity.

A good, steady defensive player.

DON THOMPSON, End
 Two years on 'varsity.
A valuable asset to the team.

"GREGG" SMITH, Halfback
 Stewartville, Mo., H. S., one year;
 Sheridan H. S., two years; second year on 'varsity.
A good line plunger with bright prospects for next year.

"HEG" HEGEWALD, End
 Laramie H. S., two years; second year on 'varsity.
Goes down on punts and is good on defense; best end Wyo. has had for years.

"TED" MADDEN, Halfback

Boston College, one year; first year on 'varsity.

A speedy back, especially good at end runs and the returning of punts.

"FRITZ" ERB

First year on 'varsity.

A hard hitter and ferocious tackler.

"LES" JOHNSTON, Tackle

First year on 'varsity.

A steady man on defense.

"TEX" WHITTENBRACKER, Tackle
First year on 'varsity.

A versatile man in the line and shows great promise for the future.

"BOB" FITZKE

La Crosse, Wisconsin, H. S., three years; first year on 'varsity.

A good punter and drop-kicker; a coming backfield man.

ORION NEFF

First year on 'varsity.

A dependable man on defense and a comer.

WYOMING, 0—C. A. C., 13.

October 2, 1920.

U. W. met Colorado Aggies here in the first game of the season before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a game in Wyoming. The Farmers' month of training, compared to the 'varsity's week and their extra weight, gave them a decided advantage over the Cowboys, but our fellows showed real Wyoming spirit and fight. For the first two quarters they held their opponents, 0 to 0.

Gradually the lack of weight and training of Wyoming's men became evident. The Aggies scored in the third quarter and again in the last, also kicking goal. U. W. was unable to score. Long at center and Hegewald at end played a good game. Tucker and Orion Neff showed up well in the line, and Madden was conspicuous for his good tackling. Many substitutions were made. In spite of the results there was every reason to believe we were going to have a winning team.

WYOMING, 10—D. U., 7.

October 9, 1920.

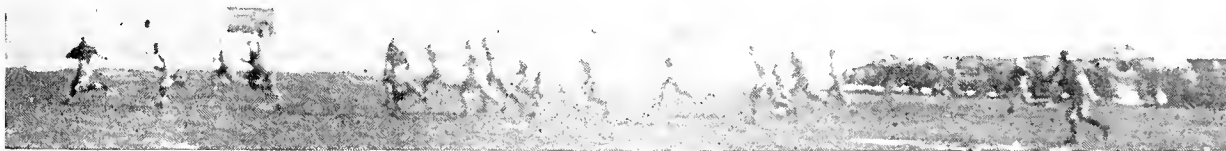

One of the most sensational games of the year was the game with D. U., played at Denver, October 9. Wyoming outplayed them at every stage of the game, but the result was close, indeed. Fitzke dropkicked in the first quarter. In the second quarter Hegewald picked a high pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. In the third quarter Wyoming took the ball down the field, 65 yards, to the Minister's 3-yard line, but D. U. held. The latter's score of seven made on a fluke in the third quarter, made them dangerously close, when in the last few minutes of play they brought the ball to our 2-yard line. Our line wavered, but held with Buck and Tucker, solid barriers against all offense. The pistol cracked. Wyoming had won a very close game. Hegewald worked cleverly at end throughout the game, while Wilson and Erb plowed through for good gains, and both Fitzke and Madden were noticeable for their backfield work.

WYOMING, 0—C. A. C., 42.
October 15, 1920.

Wyoming was outplayed in the return game with the Aggies, due, in a large measure, to the fact that four regulars were out of their lineup. C. A. C. scored in the first quarter after six minutes of play, then twice in the second period, and, although they failed to score in the third, they made three touchdowns in the last quarter. With some of our best players out of the game, Coach Corbett saw that defeat was inevitable and in the third and fourth quarters substituted most of his second string men. Layman's steady hard fighting and Madden's clever dodging made the Farmers work for their scores, but we were hopelessly beaten from the first.

WYOMING, 0—COLORADO UNIVERSITY, 7.
October 23, 1920.

In a thrilling game on the local field, Wyoming lost to C. U. The first half was scoreless on both sides, and the Cowboys played the better ball. At no time during that half did C. U. carry the ball inside Wyoming's 30-yard line. Line bucks and forward passes were unsuccessful on both sides. Neff, Tucker, Whittenbracker and Buchanan made our line invulnerable, and Wilson's and Erb's line plunging, Layman's punting and Madden's returning of punts showed that Wyoming outplayed her opponents. However, in the last quarter, after the Cowboys had taken the ball down the field sixty yards, C. U. intercepted a pass, turned the tide and a minute later scored on a forty-yard pass. It was a good game, and in real fight and yards gained Wyoming showed up well.

WYOMING, 14—MINES, 7.

October 30, 1920.

The Wyoming victory over Mines, October 30, was the result of one of the most interesting games, from a spectator's viewpoint, that was played all year. Fumbling was much in evidence on both sides, probably due to the cold and sleet, and the first quarter ended scoreless. Then Fitzke took the ball sixty yards down the field, Simpson carried it the remaining five yards for a touchdown, and Layman kicked goal just as the first half ended. In the third quarter Mines was able to make a touchdown by a series of passes, and the score was 7 to 7, but in the last quarter Layman received a punt on the 40-yard line and dodged through for Wyoming's second touchdown. The game was over, for Mines was unable to score further.

Wyoming's shift was used effectively during the entire game, and both line and backfield played real old-time football.

WYOMING, 14—NEBRASKA WESLEYAN, 7.

November 3, 1920.

On a slightly muddy field, Wyoming outplayed and outscored the Nebraska Ministers in the game at Lincoln. The Cowboys scored in the first quarter, and the first half should have ended, 7 to 0, in favor of Wyo, but the timer had no gun, and Wesleyan went nine yards for a touchdown after time was up. In the third quarter we were able to score again by a pass from Layman to Madden. The game ended, 14 to 7, in favor of Wyoming. Wilson was noticeable for his gains through the line, and Madden showed his usual good form in returning punts. Wyoming steadily took the ball down the field, but repeatedly lost on fumbles. The Cowboys' trick plays worked better in this game than at any time during the season.

WYOMING, 17—COLORADO COLLEGE, 20.

November 6, 1920.

In the last game of the Cowboys' Nebraska-Colorado trip their luck was against them. Before they got started to play the Tigers had scored two touchdowns by a series of short end runs and had kicked one goal. In the second quarter Wyoming went across by line bucks for six points and kicked for a seventh. A second attempt to score failed.

Fitzke drop-kicked nicely. Then, in the third quarter, the U. W. team worked together well and tore through for six more points, with a well-executed field goal in addition. A score of 17 to 13, in Wyoming's favor, looked well, but C. C. took the ball to our 3-yard line by passes and end runs. Although the Cowboys forced them back ten yards, they finally sucked the end in and scored.

Wyoming's shift worked to perfection, Erb and Wilson going for good gains. It was a heart-breaking battle, for Wyoming easily outplayed them.

WYOMING, 0—DENVER UNIVERSITY, 3.

November 13, 1920.

Both D. U. and U. W. played a rather slow game here November 13, on account of the cold. Several times the Ministers went down the field, but the Cowboys successfully rallied and held them on the 10-yard line. Both sides tried several long passes, but they were incompleting. The first half ended with the ball almost upon the 'varsity's 1-yard line. In the second half Wyoming was able to gain ground by line plunges, but was able to do very little by passing. In the last quarter D. U., intercepting a Wyoming pass, took the ball to U. W.'s 20-yard line. By a series of maneuvers they brought the ball to the center of the field and executed a place kick. After this neither side was able to score. Wyoming was outplayed partly because of overconfidence and partly because of Denver's determination to win after the previous loss.

WTOMING, 0—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH, 0.

November 20, 1920.

Battling in a sea of mud the Cowboys tied the U. of U. at Salt Lake. Wyoming made twelve first downs to Utah's seven as well as more yards. Although Utah gained ground on end runs the 'varsity held them well on line plunges. In the second quarter both sides attempted several kicks, but that was difficult on account of the mud. Twice Fitzke tried drop-kicks, once failing by not more than six inches. The Wyoming shift worked well, and Layman made several good runs, the most spectacular of which was in the last quarter when he ran fifty yards before he was stopped. U. W. was then going nicely, but with only twenty seconds to play. The game ended, 0 to 0, one of the hardest-fought games of the year.

WYOMING, 3—OGDEN ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, 0.

November 25, 1920.

Wyoming ended her 1920 football season on Thanksgiving day by defeating the Ogden Athletic Association, 3 to 0. Ogden started a fast game, and on account of light men in Wyoming's backfield they kept the ball in U. W. territory much of the first half. Wyoming did not take the game seriously, and only in the fourth quarter did coach put in the entire first team. In the third quarter Fitzke kicked a drop from the 40-yard line, and after that neither side was able to score.

SEASON REVIEW

OUR first basketball season in the Conference has indeed been a good one. Out of eight games played we have won five and lost the others by a narrow margin. Although we started out rather badly by losing to C. C., we came back well and have a good record. The team work, at all times in evidence, and the faithful work of the guards made our defense impenetrable. Occasional inaccuracy in shooting was the only defect in an otherwise unexcelled team.

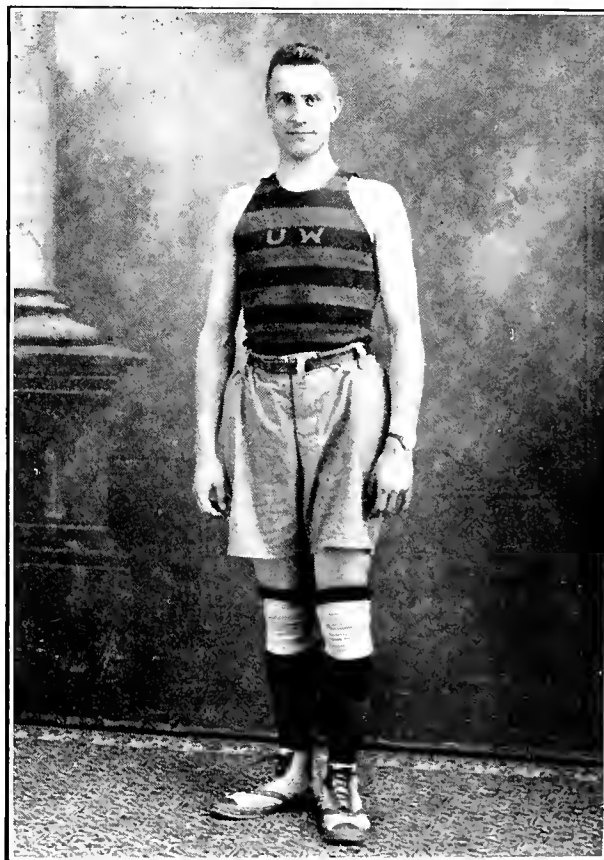

The loss of Simpson and Layman, the twin forwards, who have worked faithfully and won often for the University for four years, will seriously deplete our ranks next year, but such men as Neff, Hegewald, Smyth, Thompson, Knight and Fitzke have shown not only their ability, but their spirit. They are fast, consistent and do good team work. Such material never fails to bring Wyoming victory under the skillful direction of Coach Corbett. We know we can depend on them for a winning team as well as individual Conference honors under Captain-elect Neff next year.

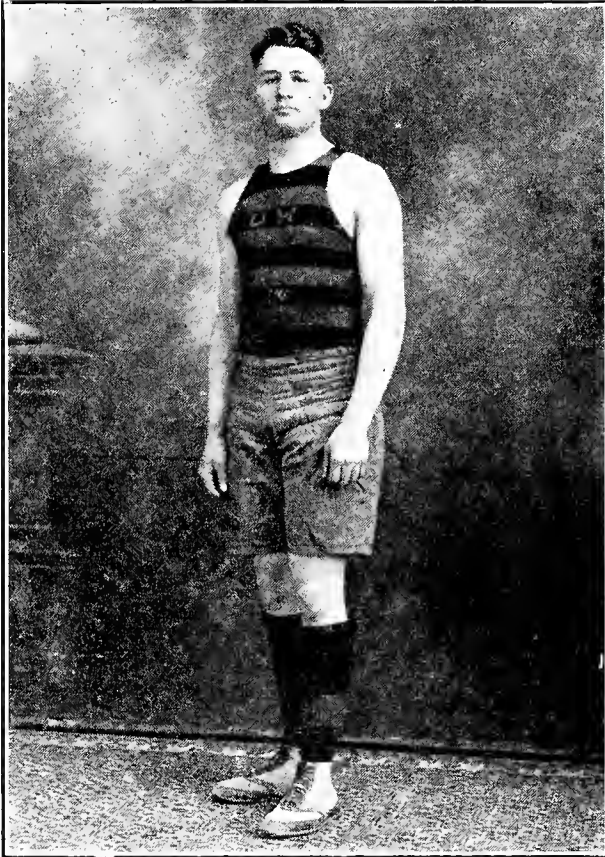

"SIMP" SIMPSON, Forward

Simp's all-round basketball ability secured him a place on the All-Conference team this year. His enviable four years' basketball record at Wyoming was fittingly completed by his success as captain during his final season.

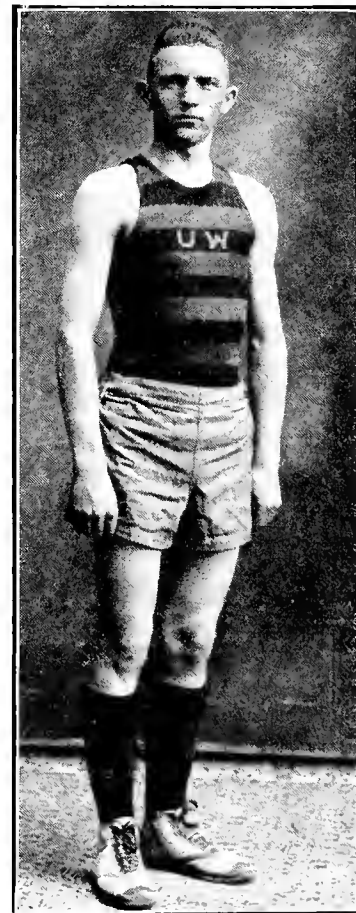

"FRITZ" LAYMAN, Forward

Fritz led last year's team to victory. During his four years of basketball at U. W. he has been our most dependable man, and his floor work has been unexcelled.

SAM NEFF, Guard

Sam's playing is not spectacular, but his consistent guarding is responsible in large measure for the majority of our victories.

"LIVER" KNIGHT, Guard

"Liver" is fast and versatile, although he plays best at guard he is a good forward. He is clever at intercepting passes and shows promise for a Conference man next year.

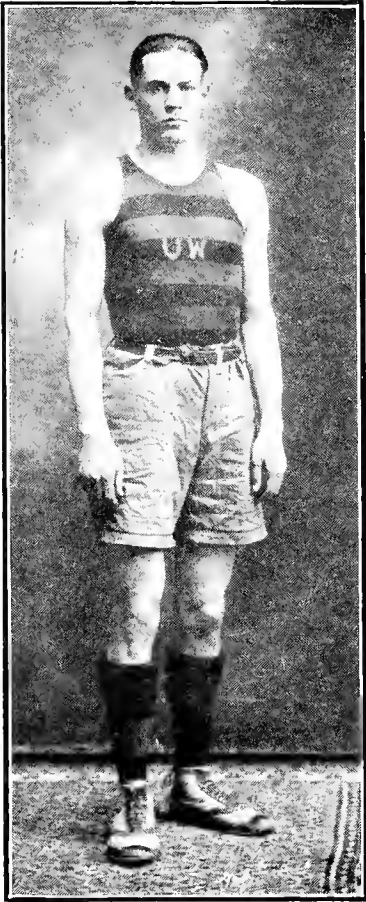

“BOB” FITZKE, Center

“Bob’s” four years of H. S. basketball at La Crosse, Wis., has helped him to show up well with the ’varsity five this year, and he promises much for the future.

“WALT” SMYTH, Forward
(Captain-elect, '16)

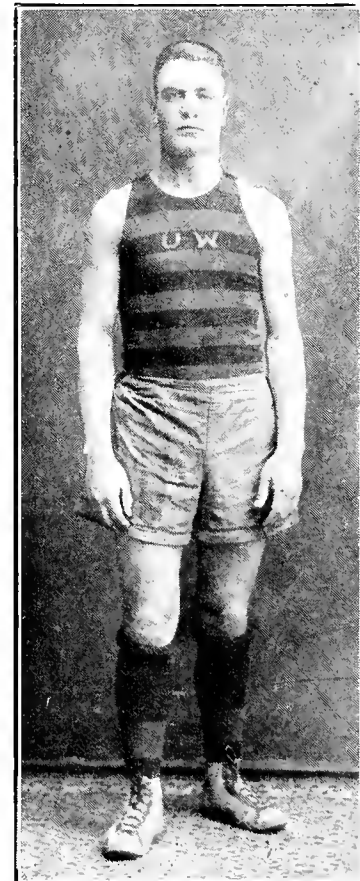

“Walt”, an old Wyoming letter man, showed lots of speed and played a good game. His accuracy in shooting fouls has been an especial service to the team this year.

GEORGE HEGEWALD, Forward

"Heg", with his splendid floor work, will be able to assume a forward position on the first team next year.

DON THOMPSON

This is Tommy's second year for Wyo. His steady playing makes him a strong man in Wyoming's defense.

WYOMING, 21—COLORADO COLLEGE, 32.

January 14, 1921.

In the first game of the first season in the Conference Wyoming was defeated, 32 to 21, by C. C. The game was fast and well fought, but Wyoming's lack of practice was evident. The Cowboys would take the ball down the floor nicely only to lose it on a poor pass. The several substitutions made in the first half availed little, for the score at the end of that period was 18 to 9, in favor of C. C. For a while, at the beginning of the second half, it looked as if U. W. could come back, but later they began to lag, and when the gun sounded the Tigers were well in the lead. Colorado College played a good type of basketball, and Wyoming, not yet up to standard, was unable to cope with them.

WYOMING, 21—DENVER, 22.

January 21, 1921.

Everyone, booster for U. W., or otherwise, will say that luck was all that gave Denver the game on the night of January 21. The Cowboys passed brilliantly, and their floor work was excellent, but their basket shooting was a little inaccurate. The score was very close during the entire game until, with one minute to play, Wyoming was one point ahead. As the ball left Graham's (D. U.) hand for the basket, the gun, ending the game, was fired, but, of course, the basket counted.

The game was indeed spectacular and thrilling and one long to be remembered. Neff starred for Wyoming, not only guarding well, but also adding four points to the 'varsity's score.

WYOMING, 36—C. C., 31.

January 22, 1921.

The Cowboys came back at C. C. in the return game and beat them, 36 to 31, on their own floor. The Wyoming team was ahead all of the time, except for ten minutes in the beginning of the second half. After the 'varsity team had obtained a lead, they worked the five-man defense well, forcing C. C. to shoot from the center of the floor. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 13, in favor of U. W., but in the beginning of the second period the Tigers rallied, and soon the score was 26 to 23 in their favor. The Cowboys played consistently, however, and at the end of the last half were well ahead. The game was one which involved good team work and co-operation from every member. The guards worked very effectively. Simpson's work at forward was commendable, and Fitzke starred with seven baskets to his credit.

WYOMING, 34—MU THETA SIGMA, 17.

January 29, 1921.

The fact that the Mu Theta Sigmas had beaten both D. U. and the Colorado Miners reflects much credit on the victory of the 'varsity over them. The first half ended 13 to 12, in favor of Wyoming, the period being characterized by poor shooting on both sides. The second half started out much faster than the first, the Cowboys working their defense well and outplaying their opponents, although their shooting was still poor.

Layman played especially well, making fourteen points, and Knight's work at guard was good. The final score was 34 to 17, in favor of the Cowboys.

WYOMING, 19—DENVER, 10.

February 5, 1921.

In the return with D. U., played in the U. W. Gymnasium, the Wyoming team made up for their former bad luck by a 19-to-10 victory. The 'varsity five guarded closely and although penalized several times, kept the visitors from scoring heavily. For the first ten minutes of play neither team secured a basket. Then Wyoming loosened up, and at the end of the first half the score was 11 to 5, in the Cowboys' favor. U. W. played consistently in the second period, and by the use of the five-man defense forced Denver to shoot almost entirely from the center of the floor. Basket-throwing was erratic on the part of both teams, but our guards Neff and Knight showed up well and Smyth proved his ability to drop in free throws.

WYOMING, 12—C. A. C., 16.

February 11, 1921.

In the first of two games played at Fort Collins against C. A. C. Wyoming was defeated, 16 to 12. The Aggies played a remarkable game and were at no time threatened by defeat. They adopted the five-man defense and, thus taking our team by surprise, beat them the first half, 8 to 4. In the last period the Cowboys played better ball, but were unable to outdo the Farmers, each team scoring eight points. If Wyoming had been able to shoot fouls they might have won the game, for they guarded well, and after the first few minutes they played a good game.

WYOMING, 20—C. A. C., 17.

February 12, 1921.

In the second game played with Aggies, the Cowboys made up for the loss of the first. Although the score was close throughout the game, it was due to the fact that Wyoming was fouled repeatedly for minor offenses. In spite of this the score was 10 to 5 at the end of the first and 20 to 17 at the end of the second half, in favor of Wyoming. Both teams played good ball, but the Cowboys' five-man defense worked especially well, and the Farmers were forced to try long shots frequently, but were not often successful. Fitzke, Simpson and Layman passed well, but Layman was taken out on account of personals. Smyth filled his place effectively, and Knight put up an especially good defensive game.

WYOMING, 32—SACRED HEART COLLEGE, 30.

February 22, 1921.

The last game of the season was played against Sacred Heart at the Wyoming Gymnasium. The entire contest was characterized by periods of fast and slow playing, which showed lack of practice on the part of the Cowboys. The first period ended, 23 to 11, in favor of S. H., but the Wyoming team came back strong in the second and tied their opponents, 27 to 27. The playing off of the tie resulted in a score of 5 to 3 in favor of U. W. In both halves the second team was substituted, but seemed to play neither better nor worse than the first team. The Wyoming quintet had ceased practice and showed much less than their average amount of skill.

Baseball Season, 1921

LAST year marked Wyoming's debut in baseball as an intercollegiate sport, and naturally we did not start with a long schedule. Our only intercollegiate game was with the University of California, played here at Laramie. We were defeated, 10 to 0, in a hard-fought and interesting game. Up to the seventh inning the score stood 2 to 0, in favor of California, and every Wyoming roofer had hopes of a U. W. victory, but by exceptionally good hitting in the seventh, the visitors ran in seven scores and added another in the eighth. Smith deserved commendation for his good work on the mound, and his assistance in fielding from that position. Willis showed up well as catcher, and Simpson will always be remembered for catching a seemingly impossible fly in the left field. In fact, all of our men fielded well and were weak only in hitting. Considering that the Native Sons beat Salt Lake, 14 to 4, Denver Midwest, 20 to 4, and that Nebraska narrowly escaped defeat at their hands, we are proud of our playing and of our score as well, even though we lost. Remember, it was our first year! Watch us go this season!

Most of last year's team are back and under the direction of Coach Corbett are rapidly rounding into form. They have shown up well in practice work, and we are looking forward with confidence to the results of the intercollegiate games. Wyoming is going to have a record in baseball, as well as in other athletics.

Fourth Annual Basketball Tournament

THE annual high school tournament has become a traditional event, and the one held this year was the biggest and best one so far. Twenty-two basketball teams fought for the high school championship of Wyoming, and very few of the forty-three games played were loose and uninteresting. The gymnasium was crowded for every game, and the last night when Worland, Laramie and Rock Springs played for final placing the excitement was intense. Worland, for the second time, carried away first honors. That their ability was of no mean quality was shown by their close competition in a later game with the Colorado H. S. champions. Laramie suffered the first defeat of the season in their sensationally close game with Worland. Rock Springs played consistently and well deserved third place which they were awarded. This is the third time they have been placed in the finals. Come again, Rock Springs!

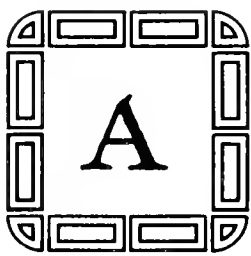

Representatives of the different schools also participated in various academic contests, such as declamation, debating, short-hand, extemporaneous speaking, short-story writing, typing, violin, piano and vocal. Many of the participants in these very interesting events showed exceptional ability which, properly developed, would undoubtedly bring them many honors in their college career.

All in all, tournament week was one of the busiest and most enjoyable of the year. We hope that our visitors enjoyed being with us as thoroughly as we, the faculty and students, delighted in playing hosts. We will be glad to welcome them all to our institution for tournament week next year.

Intramural Basketball Series

ALTHOUGH this is the first year intramural basketball contests have been held, eight teams participated in the series. The games scheduled were as follows: S. A. E. vs. Prep Alumni; A. T. O. vs. Sigma Nu; Vocational vs. Methodist; Aggies vs. Alpha Delta Theta. Only men who had not played in Conference games were eligible. The Prep Alumni forfeited to the S. A. E.'s by not appearing. The A. T. O.'s defeated the Sigma Nu's, 25 to 17, in a close and hard-fought game. The Alpha Delta's forfeited to the Aggies, while the Methodists defeated the Vocationals, 12 to 8. The S. A. E.'s then played the Aggies, beating them 25 to 7, and the A. T. O.'s defeated the Methodists, 20 to 13. The most interesting part of the series occurred on the evening of the Sacred Heart vs. U. W. game, as a runner-up to that. Both fraternities concerned turned out en masse to support their teams.

The Alpha Tau's maintained the lead in the beginning and ended the first half, 13 to 7, although that period of the game was hotly contested. DeKay and Erickson starred, the latter especially playing a fast game. With the coming of the second half the tide turned and A. T. O. seemed unable to get started. Among the Sig Alph's, Cordiner and McKay showed up well, and Worden tied the score by some good shooting. For five minutes neither side scored, and everyone feared a tie till Worden, in the last minute of play, dropped in a basket—the whistle blew—the final score was 16 to 14, in the S. A. E.'s favor. McKay, H. Erickson, Cordiner and DeKay were forgotten somewhat—Worden was the hero of the hour. The Sig Alph's are now the proud possessor of the banner presented by the Y. W. C. A. to the winner of the series.

“W” Club

In speaking of collegiate honors, the most natural and paramount association is athletics. A club, then, whose membership is limited to those who have achieved the distinction of being awarded letters for athletic accomplishment, is indeed an honorary organization. The “W” Club is such. It was founded to promote athletics in Wyoming, and although it is yet in its infancy, its work is being felt over the entire state, especially in high schools.

DEBATING

---

Debating

WYOMING, it might be said, was a lamentable failure in forensics during the 1920-21 season, at least in so far as favorable decisions determine success or failure. Aside, however, from the outward results, there has been a great advancement in the debating life of the University. To start with, the Freshman debates were not only interesting and instructive, but exceptionally well attended. Then there were more contestants in the team tryouts than ever before.

And finally, the debaters of the University realize that they will stand better chances of success if the one-judge system is abolished.

The question debated by the women was: "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop is justifiable." The negative team, Miss Hollo and Miss Hemphill, debated the C. A. C. team here, while Miss Mollring and Miss Hardie went to debate the D. U. women in Denver. The alternates were Miss Moore and Miss Brooks.

The men's question was: "Resolved, that Japanese immigration should be restricted on the same basis of federal legislation." The negative team, Mr. Featherstone, Mr. Mann, Mr. Buntin and Mr. Clifford, alternate, went to Fort Collins to try its argumentative powers on the Colorado Aggies. Mr. Simpson, Mr. Parker, Mr. Ringert and Mr. Chew, alternate, met the Colorado Teachers' College here.

Both the men's debates were judged by one man. Conceding that the judge decided to the best of his ability, it is nevertheless true that one man is apt to unconsciously allow his opinion to be slightly biased by his personal convictions.

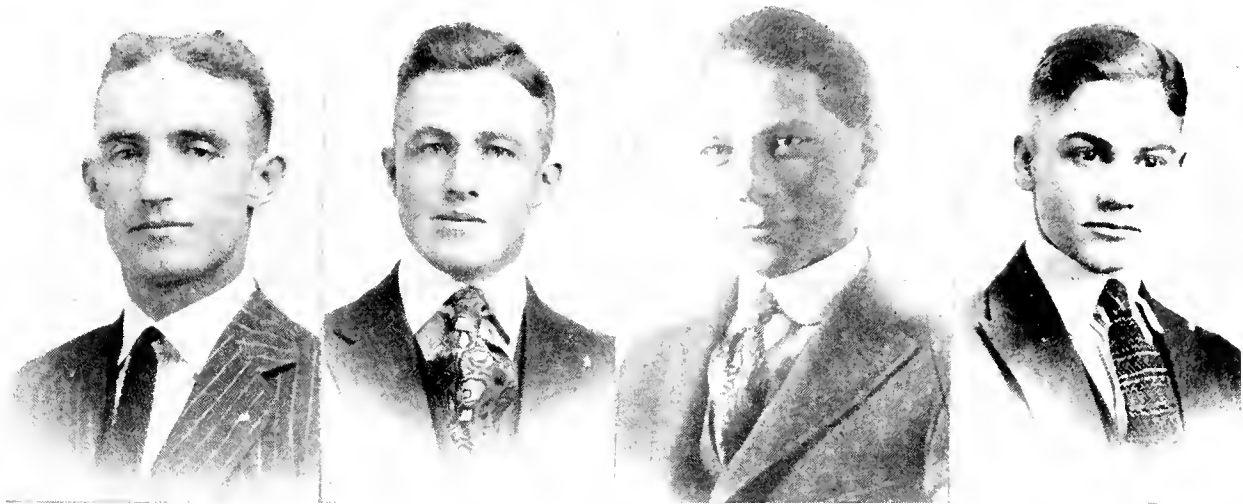

Co-operation and team work were evident the entire season, and the debates were well supported. Both men's and women's teams owe much to the efforts of Dr. McIntyre, who worked steadily with all the debaters.

Plays

ON January 14, the Thalian Club presented three one-act plays. The first play was "Willoware", a charming little Chinese fantasy, written by the Quill Club of the University. The oriental setting was exquisite, and the quaint, whimsical lines gave the cast great scope for expression. Miss Mary Park was charming as a vivacious American girl and as the dream princess on the willoware platter; Mr. Murray Klein was admirable as Cliff, the young poet, while Miss Betty Moore, in the role of Cho Seng, a demure little Chinese maiden, was the most captivating feature of the play, with her grave coquetry and delicate play of spirit.

The second play, "A Night at the Inn", by Lord Dunsany, was a powerful and graphic bit of real acting. Mr. Edwin Hathaway, as "Toffee", the leader of the thieves, gave the best performance of the evening. Mr. Don Worden was splendid as the swaggering sailor, Mr. Glenn Parker gave a strong impersonation of a fearful and conscience-stricken man, and Mr. Roy Grubb played a similar part to perfection. Jack Gage was an awesome idol, and Irvia Munger, Harry Irons and Don Hunton were gruesome as priests.

The third play, "How He Lied To Her Husband", was a sparkling Shaw comedy. Crete Wood, with her auburn hair and gift of interpretation, was adorable as Aurora. Milward Simpson, as an impetuous and fiery young poet, portrayed vividly the character of his lines; Ben Gregg was a stalwart and loyal husband and a formidable antagonist. The whole was charming and refreshing and exceptionally well-received.

The night's performance was a decided credit to the club.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"

Presented by Wyoming Gamma Psi of A. T. O. on Friday, May 28, 1920.

Coming in the midst of many University social successes, which are so evident during the last few weeks of the Commencement Term, nothing was more appreciated nor more successfully carried out than the presentation of Winchell Smith's delightful play "The Fortune Hunter". For several years the Greek organizations of the University had abandoned this line of effort, but the splendid way in which this play was received made it an assured fact that it is a big field for fraternal efforts,

The production was under the direction of Mrs. Mabelle DeKay, assisted by Paul Essert. The cast was well chosen, this being especially noticeable in the part of "The Fortune Hunter", as played by M. L. Simpson, whose clever interpretation and portrayal of that part won his audience completely. Miss Virginia Miller co-starred as "Betty". Miss Mary Park was indeed successful in the part of bashful little "Angie", and Miss Hazel Spencer, as usual, scored a hit in the part of Josie. Indeed, each part was capably and pleasingly filled, and the Laramie theatergoers were very enthusiastic in their praise for the well-spent efforts of Alpha Tau Omega.

“NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH”

It is not every year that Sigma Alpha Epsilon gives a play—but when the members of S. A. E. do enter the dramatic arena the result is worth watching. This was the unanimous verdict of the large audience that came to the Empress Theater April 15 to witness the comedy “Nothing But the Truth”, and went away to chuckle in retrospect for days afterward. The play, which enjoyed a long run in New York with William Collier in the leading role, is packed full of clever and whimsical situations, and it lost nothing of its brilliancy in the presentation of the fraternity Thespians. Credit is first of all due to Mrs. DeKay, who brought to its direction the skill and consistent effort that have characterized her long list of previous successes. The members of the cast all handled their parts with professional finesse, and several created roles that will go down in University history.

“THE SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE”

The last play of the year will be given May 28 and will be presented by the Thaliens. They have chosen “The Seven Keys to Baldpate”. The funds derived from the performance will be used to buy a velvet drop for use at future University plays.

The play will be under the supervision of Mrs. DeKay. Murray S. Klein will be director, and O. C. Clifford has been appointed as business manager.

GENERAL JAM

The General Jam was the first social function of the year. It was given under the auspices of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. and was certainly a decided success. The General Jam is an annual affair given for the purpose of having the students meet each other, so making new acquaintances, as well as renewing old ones. No college year would be complete without our General Jam.

FROSH HOP.

"The following dance is traditional: Frosh Hop", says the Freshman Bible. So, the freshmen of '24, wishing to uphold the traditions of U. W., gave their annual Frosh Hop on October 16. The programs were clever, the music was good, everyone was just in the right mood, so is it any wonder that a joyous time reigned supreme? And imagine the delight of the dancers when there issued forth balloons, confetti and serpentine. After an evening of unusual merriment the guests trudged home, tired, but supremely happy. We thank the class of '24 for one of the most successful dances of the year.

SOPHOMORE STAMPEDE

Wasn't it some stampede, though? Perhaps it owes its success to the fact that it occurred on the 13th of November. You never can tell. Anyway, it took us back of "ye good olde days" of '49, and almost as ghosts of the past we gazed upon roulette wheels and faro tables, alike in design, if not in the true theory of the game to those used by '49ers. Even the 2% -bar with its glasses brim-ful of cider and pop was there. The old stage-coach, the accordion and harmonica, and the dance hall's mirrored doors reflected the days of '49. And as to costumes—well, there were just any variety of them. Chaps, spurs, boots, cowboy rigging of all kinds, Indian costumes, calico aprons, gingham, any style one could possibly imagine was there represented. After all the powder was gone so the pistols had to keep peace, and the music of "Turkey-in-the-Straw" variety had ceased, after certain thirsty persons had drunk up most all the cider, and since all our '49er money was gone and everybody was just so plumb tired out and happy that they couldn't dance any longer, we blessed the Sophomore Class for one of the best times ever, and then we went off home.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA DINNER DANCE

Perhaps one of the most brilliant and most pleasing social events of every college year is the Thanksgiving dinner dance, given by Gamma Psi chapter of Alpha Tau Omega. This year's event was exceedingly brilliant and lovely. First came a wonderful turkey dinner with all the "trimmin's"—a banquet fit for a king. This was followed by a delightful dance at the W. O. W. hall. The function will long be remembered for the Alpha Taus, as per usual, were royal hosts. How well they satisfied the desires of the feminine heart when they presented each young lady present with a beautiful silver bud vase, bearing the A. T. O. shield upon it. Everyone present declared that he had the best time ever and that he hoped that Thanksgiving would come again soon.

THE JUNIOR PROM

Pardon us, all ye readers of the Annual, if we seem to give what seems to you undue space to the Junior Prom. But you know that we're a pretty fine class, and if it weren't for us you wouldn't be reading any Annual and—well, we're going to write about the prom now. The event occurred on Friday evening, December 17. The hall, though not elaborately decorated, looked very enticing, indeed. The decorations were designed by Mr. Rosamond, Christmas colors of red and green being worked out very artistically. The most attractive spot in the gymnasium, perhaps, was the north end of the hall. Here the musicians' platform, occupied by the Syntax Orchestra, was slightly elevated and built up with a hedge of pine boughs and red poinsettias. Behind this stand there was also a labyrinth of the same green boughs and poinsettias, and a yellow moon gleamed through the branches. On either side of the platform were two small rooms designed with French doors of blue and white, the class colors, and bearing Santa Claus heads. These rooms were artistically furnished with rugs, tables, easy chairs and floor lamps which shed forth soft lights. In the center of the hall hung a large white basket filled with bright Christmas colors. From it ran out streamers of blue and white, and these in turn were attached to smaller baskets at the four corners of the room. The railing around the balcony was covered with blue and white wrappings, and the basketball backstops were hidden by pine boughs and red poinsettias and festooned with blue and white. The programs were in blue and white and bore the numerals '22 in deeper blue. Punch was served throughout the evening and about midnight ice cream and wafers appeared to refresh the dancers. After this intermission dancing continued until 2 o'clock. We, the class of '22, are too modest to say it was a grand success, but we do hope you had a good time, and we want to thank you for the support and co-operation that you gave us by coming.

SIGMA NU INSTALLATION

On the nineteenth day of October, 1920, Sigma Nu Fraternity sent the glad news to Gamma Theta Chi that the local was to be chartered as Epsilon Delta Chapter of Sigma Nu. That message denoted the attainment of a goal that, for two and one-half years, Gamma Theta Chi had been trying for. October the twenty-ninth was selected as the installation date, and arrangements were made for the event and the celebration of it.

The Denver Alumni Chapter was authorized to carry out the installation, and Mr. C. R. Hays, president of the chapter, took charge of the work. Prominent men in the national fraternity, such as Past Regent Krippner, Past Grand Chaplain Spencer, Grand Counsellor Williams and Iuspector More assisted him. At 4 o'clock of the afternoon of October 29, in the Knights of Pythias Lodge room in Woodman hall, the members of Gamma Theta Chi were pledged to Sigma Nu. That evening, these men were impressively initiated into the Brotherhood of Sigma Nu.

On the afternoon of October 30, Epsilon Delta Chapter, following in the democratic footsteps of the fraternity's founders, and in order to share its joy with others, threw open its home for a reception for the faculty, students and townspeople. As a final celebration of the establishment of the new chapter, a banquet was held at the Connor Hotel that evening. Following the banquet there were many inspiring talks, and Epsilon Delta will always remember it as one of the bright stars of her constellation of experiences and as the crowning feature of her installation.

CADET BALL

On January 21, the University R. O. T. C. were hosts at their annual cadet ball. The hall looked very lovely in its patriotic colors of red, white and blue and flags of many hues served to enhance the beauty of the scene. Tiny tents gave the added army atmosphere to the hall and were the most delightful cozy corners ever. Refreshments were served at midnight and, further carrying out the army life, were served in honest-to-goodness army kits. The gymnasium looked very lovely, there was good music and a well-polished floor, and, in short, everything was conducive to a gay, jolly, good time. The cadets are indeed to be congratulated on having given such an enjoyable affair.

BASKETBALL BANQUET

On April 4, the third annual basketball banquet was given at the University Commons by the Y. M. C. A. The menu for the banquet was indeed clever, being in true Cowboy style in every detail.

- CHUCK Mulligan
- Green Plums
Sage Roots
- Cowed Peas
Honeyed Spuds
- Frozen Strawberry Cow
Trimmins
- Badlands Mud
Taste Chasers
- Locoed Hash

The program which followed further carried out the general scheme and was as follows:

LINE-UP

- Straw Boss.....Stan R. Pier
- Invocation.....Sky-Pilot L. E. Carter
- Wyoming Mavericks Enter the Corral.....Clarence Rue
- Wild West Comedy.....The Bunkhouse Quartet
- Hot Air, by the Foreman.....Coach Corbett
- Riding Point.....M. L. Simpson
- Let 'Er Buck, by the Boss.....Prexy
- Staking Over the Championship Belt.....Walter Jensen
- (To Winners of Intra-Mural Tournament)
- Powder River Girls.....Olga Moore
- Putting Our Brand (U. W.) on the Herd.....Captain-elect Sam Neff
- Alma Mater.....The U. W. Outfit

The banquet was indeed a decided success and was a very enjoyable way of thanking the team for the good work and unceasing effort which they have put forth this year.

A. S. U. W. FORMAL

On Friday evening, April 8, the Associated Students of the University of Wyoming gave their annual formal ball. The gymnasium was decorated in those wonderful colors which are to those who attend the University of Wyoming the most beautiful of all colors—The Brown and Yellow. These colors were most effectively used in the streamers which ran to the balcony of the gymnasium and also along the sides of the room in lattice work. They were also used in the four corners of the room to mark off the cozy corners which are so necessary a part of every dance. The Syntax Orchestra were ensconced in a lovely gold and brown labyrinth and perhaps that had something to do with the music which issued forth, for it was truly golden. Large gilt triangles bearing the letters A. S. U. W. were suspended from the ceiling and added a very artistic touch to the haven of brown and yellow. Though these decorations were not elaborate they could not have been more effective or artistic.

With good music, good partners, all the delicious punch one could possibly drink and all the brown and yellow to give everyone the right degree of pep the hours fairly flew by, and the familiar strains of "Home, Sweet Home" sounded through the hall long before anyone could imagine that those strains meant one-thirty. The A. S. U. W. is indeed to be congratulated on their gracious hospitality and on the marked success of their dance.

VARSITY TRAINING TABLE DANCES

At different times throughout the college year there have been very delightful, informal dances given, the proceeds of which have been used toward the support of a training table for the University's athletes. The freshmen were hosts at several of these and later were assisted by the "W" club. These dances, while not as well supported as they might have been, were very popular.

A. S. U. W. DANCES

These dances were informal and were given under the auspices of the A. S. U. W. They were always welcomed with keen enthusiasm by the students, and everybody who attended always had a most enjoyable time.

SENIOR MASQUERADE

As the 1922 Annual went to press before this joyous event it is impossible to give any detailed account of it here. It is to take place May 13, and the Seniors have been making great preparations for the affair. These Senior masquerades are traditional and have always been very enjoyable. This year the Seniors promise that the dance will surpass even the greatest expectations, and that after it is over we will forever hold the Seniors in grateful remembrance. The student body is eagerly looking forward to the aforesaid hop and all are busy concocting costumes for the happy event.

FASHION ITEMS.

By Ted Madden.

Men's vests will be worn sleeveless and with buttons this spring.
 Spats will make their appearance in pairs.
 Very few trousers will be found this year that go on over the head.
 For formal occasions the waistcoat shall be worn under the coat.
 Few, if any, rubbers will be seen at the really smart functions.
 Our younger men will wear the umbrella during rainy days.
 Red ties or yellow shoes will not be worn this year at formals.

READ THESE NEW COURSES, THEN CHANGE YOUR PROGRAM.

Things are moving swiftly these days; governments bloom and wither in a day, sport idols fall from their pedestals, Ponzi pays 30 cents on the dollar, and the class of 1924 is here.

The question is, shall this great university, this great state institution, in which hundreds of fine American youths have placed their trust and upon whose figurative lap they literally sit, shall this university give these young men absolutely no courses along the more advanced lines of modern thinking and acting, no subjects which will enable Wyoming men to hold their own proud positions among the great men of the day?

Shall these students be forced to study Math., Poly. Con., Rhetoric, Chem. and the many other virtually useless courses in our curriculum? No! We shout with both feet, no! And we propose to suggest to the faculty these modern and up to date courses that no school can survive without in this chaotic age. We demand that the following courses be added to the catalogue:

Poker 1a. Three hours credit. M., W., F., at 10. In this course the rudiments of the game will be discussed at length. The Jack-Pot game will be stressed and the comparative values of hands and the difference between the red, white and blue chips will receive particular emphasis. There will be two lectures with slides and one Quiz. Quiz hour to be arranged by instructor. Instructor: Prof. Edwards Deming.

Poker 5a. Two credit hours. Tu. and Th. at 11. This course will be a continuation of 1a and will go deeper into the subject. The ante, the four-card draw, splitting openers, the passed pot, and the five-card stud game will be carefully studied. Open only to upper classmen. Instructor: Prof. Glenn Burton.

Poker 21x. Two credit hours. Sat. night from 9 on. This course will be open only to graduate students and seniors having special permission. The subjects taken up will be largely the finer points of the game, problems and styles of play, including five and seven card stud, bumping the opener, holding a kicker, the roaring deuces, joker in the hole, spit in the ocean and roodles. Students will bring their own decks. No marked cards allowed. Instructor: Fred Layman.

Dice 1a. Mon., Wed. and Fri. at 11. This course will begin immediately with the finer points of the game assuming that a rudimentary knowledge at least exists in the newest freshman. The importance of fading, how to coax the cubes, the knuckle on a blanket, the odd and hard points will be taken up. Once a week Prof. Ater from Decatur College will lecture. Instructor: Tom Buntin.

Dice 13a. Th., 4 to 6. Two credit hours. This course will be conducted as a seminary, and actual demonstration of different styles of play will be the daily routine. The professor will furnish the bones as students' dice will not be permitted. The fine art of holding the dice on naturals will be take up. Students electing this course should come well heeled. Instructor: Hamilton Cordiner.

Home Brewing 1a. M., W., F., at 10. Three credit hours. Laboratory hours to be arranged with the instructor. This course will take up simple brewing, capping and bottling light and dark beer, ales and porter and the current prices and supply of malts, hops, yeast and sugar will be discussed. Lab. fee, $15 per term. Instructor: Ruth Stout.

Home Brewing 23a. T. and Th. at 9. Two credit hours. This course is a continuation of 1a and goes more deeply into the subject of brewing and also takes up mild fermentation, the importance of the collar and the loudly popping cork will be taken up. Prof. Bud Weiser from Blatz College will lecture every Tuesday. Instructor: Mary Clifford.

Home Brewing 31x. M., W. and F., at 2. Four credit hours. Two hours of lab. work. Hours to be arranged with the instructor. This course is open only to upper classmen. Distillation will be the principal subject taught. Various phases of this will be taken up: What the drug store yields; how to become familiar with a silo; lemon extract, shaving lotion, hair tonic and their by-products. The raisin on its native heath. Lab. fee, $8. Instructor: Mary Park.

To the man who hasn't bought clothes lately

During the war "Conserve" was the cry. During high-price era just passed "Thrift" was the watchword.

But things are different now. You no longer need to keep from yourself the clothes you wish.

You'll miss a great amount of satisfaction if you don't look over our Spring assortment of men's clothes at

Potter: "Shall we squeeze in the front seat?"

Audrey: "Can't you at least wait till we get up to Woman's Hall?"

Alo: "Who is that handsome man?"

Rue: "That's Barnes, our pole vaulter."

Alo: "Does he speak English?"

Rowenna: "That man seems awful inefficient to me."

Butler: "Don't criticize the poor fellow, he may be registrar some day."

It's time that all the Frosh learned the story about the deaf and dumb man who broke his thumb trying to shout "Fire".

Earl McKay: "A man never knows what happiness is until he gets married."

Roger Cottle: "And then it's too late."

Slats Fay: "You always used to say that you wouldn't marry the best man living."

Mrs. Fay: "Well, I didn't."

Essert: "No wonder I'm brilliant. Just look at my forefathers."

Topping: "Gosh! I only had one."

Alice Beck (to clerk): "Sell me a mouse trap, quick. I want to catch a train."

A burglar, entering Bob Deming's room, awakened him.

Bob: "What are you looking for?"

Burglar: "Booze."

Bob: "Wait! I'll get up and help you."

That's a thing we can't forget;
There's one more thing that's always so,
He wants that little wet.

Florence (soulfully): "Our spirits are so in harmony. I can sense an aura about you."

Fritz: "That isn't an aura you sense—it's hair tonic."

Beggar: "Kind sir, will you give me a dime for a bed?"

Fat F. (cautiously): "Let's see the bed first."

It is our business and our duty to see that your dollar reaches its highest purchasing power at this store, especially when the close of a season literally introduces us into the new season. Because then your needs are many. Since at the time you have much to buy, better values are more than ever appreciated, then why not come here where you save a little every time you make a purchase?

Now we are really anxious to have you consider this "your" store. We have labored long and faithfully to get our prices lower on an average than those of any store in this section, so you would be repaid by coming here. We have paid just as much attention to perfecting our knowledge of merchandise and conditions, that we might better be able to care for your every need. These things are the ones on which we base our contention, that "you will do better by buying here."

Coach Corbett has originated a new play to be used next year in football. It is called the double quarter-back play, and as he has given us the dope on this play we will pass it along to you so that you will be able to understand it next year when the Cowboys use it for the first time. As the name suggests there are two quarters used for this wonderful play; they line up in back of the center abreast of each other; the center is provided with a football (which no center is complete without) and a pint bottle of moonshine, he passes the ball and the hootch back together, one quarter back getting the ball and the other one receiving the forbidden likker; the man receiving the latter smacks his lips to add a little local color to the play and starts walking away with the bottle in his hand; naturally the other team sees the bottle and all follow him away; all the other quarter has to do is walk down the middle of the field for a touchdown. A play on the same order as this one was used with a great deal of success by the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Fritz Erb started a book last fall with the wonderful title, "From Hobo to Parson," but he has revised and enlarged it so that now the title is, "From Hobo to Parson and Back Again." The publishers of this great work from the pen of the Ex-Parson are preparing a large advertising campaign. Those that have read the manuscript say that it will rank with "Dead Shot Pete" and "Dare-Devil Dick".

---

Gladys S.: "Mac, did you ever play the game of love before?"
Nelson M.: "Only once, but I neded a shave and was disqualified for unnecessary roughness."

Barber: "If you don't hold your head up, I can't shave you."

HOW TO MEASURE THE VOID ABOVE YOUR EYES.

Mental Test Arranged by Dr. Downey.

Do not write anything until you are told to begin and then write nothing. If you are unable to do a problem don't.

TEST NO. 1.

1. If the obliquity of the ecliptic were thirty-five degrees, how long would it take Ham Cordiner and Mary Park to get a book out of the Library?
2. Cadet Officer Neff saw a battalion of celestial elephants playing leapfrog along the equator. Where did he get it?
3. If it takes a certain young co-ed  $23\frac{1}{2}$  seconds to roll her hose, how long would it take her to roll: (a) an ex.; (b) a seven; (c) a cigarette? If not, why not?

TEST NO. 2.

Rearrange the following cock-eyed sentences and tell whether they are untrue or false.

But none the bench upperclassmen warm.—Untrue False.

League Woman's in favor the of all are we.—Untrue False.

Goofey gazunks gimlet glug.—Untrue False.

TEST NO. 3.

If a cucumber is more like a billiard ball than like a frankfurter, stand on your head and sing Annie Laurie, but if cheese is thicker than water, and the square root of the differential is less than twice the arc of a Wyoming cootie, take a dive off the Ag. building.

TEST NO. 4.

Prove by geometry that if any triangle is as base as a base as a given triangle, the hypotheni of the greater will be less kleptomaniac than the sine qua non of the former, and will vary directly with the parabola of the meridian.

If the above is absurd, take a nice long drink of Prussic Acid and tell how it tasted.

TEST NO. 5.

A-B equals C. And D is less than QED— COD.

C is greater than D and less than BVD, but not so great as PDQ plus MLS. Solve for x.

“STOP.”

The mental deficiency test is over. By our new method of grading the student will not have to wait for results. Here are the final grades: All Wyo readers get one hundred, all others get minus ten.

---

The more than usual lack of intelligence had got under Prof. Peterson's skin in Poly Sci the other afternoon. “Class is dismissed”, he said exasperatedly, “please don't flap your ears as you pass out.”

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS

And we know this from experience, as it took us a long time to prove to you what we have constantly been saying—that it requires a RELIABLE merchant to make a success in business.

We have, however, never given up faith in you, and, as always will be the case, a tree well taken care of will bear good fruit in the future.

We are happy to say that we are well pleased with our endeavor, even if it has been a stubborn fight, and only hope you will continue to have the utmost confidence in us, which we assure you will never be misplaced.
